MAY 1 PRESENT Gene Cotton

In our last issue, Gene Cotton was briefly described as an unusual type of entertainer who is gaining nationwide popularity. When Gene performs at the UNF boathouse on November 5, the audience is certain to enjoy this unique quality, as audiences coast to coast already have. For the past three years, the singer has been on tour, performing on campuses all over the country. He has been on tour with Olivia Newton-John and has appeared with such groups as the Charlie Daniels and the Marshall Tucker bands. He has also made an appearance on several television shows, including "American Bandstand."

The sphere in which Gene Cotton moves has broadened considerably, both geographically and musically, since his coffeehouse circuit days. His transition from the confines of small, intimate and smoky rooms to nationwide acclaim as a highly individualized folk singer has been gradual but successful all the way. Gene is a brilliant songwriter - his original tune, "Sunshine Roses", reached national popularity even though the label was relatively unknown. It brought Gene to the attention of ABC Records, who signed him to a long term, worldwide recording contract. His first release for them, "For All The Young Writers", is his best, certain to achieve long-lasting audience response.

The singer majored in political science at Ohio State and his political views are reflected in his songs. His home life is reminiscent of the thirties, the era of depression and hoboos, for the Cottons open their hearth and home to anyone who is in need of a place to spend the night or of a meal. Gene states that more good experiences have resulted from this policy than have bad ones.

His albums show that he is not one to go along with current fads - one reviewer wrote, "Cotton strikes me as a return - or perhaps "re-emphasis" is a better word - of the protests, the messages and the very ideals of the past decade . . . maybe it's time the folksingers came back and reminded us of our apathy." And another, "Those of you who've never had the opportunity to catch Gene Cotton in concert have missed an experience - one as relaxed and informal as it is dedicated and sincere."

So, if you'd like to see the performer who upstaged Blood, Sweat and Tears when he appeared as their warm-up act in College Station, Texas, or if you simply like a really good folk singer, be there on Friday evening, November 5, for another really good Student Activities Happy Hour.

FREE STREET RETURNS

If you've never been on Easy Street, try Free Street - you're sure to like it. Free Street will be a part of UNF soon, but only for one day. It is the name of an excellent group of traveling players who will be on campus during the day, Friday, Oct. 22, for a workshop and will entertain on the Athletic Field at 7:30 p.m. They will also be appearing at various Jacksonville locations during their stay here.

The group has performed on campus before and the audience response was terrific. They loved them. Remember the date and be on hand with a picnic supper and blankets to relax on.

GETTING IT TOGETHER

Past and Future Club Happenings

Wednesday, Oct. 13, was a busy day for UNF organizations, especially clubs. At noon the ICAC held a meeting in the Coffeehouse of building 9 which was attended by approximately 25 persons; eighteen clubs sent representatives.

Outside in the cafeteria courtyard and at the same time, the Covenant Players were featured in "Short Provocative Dramatic Vignettes About Life." These players are an international repertory theater group who do original, contemporary dramatic vignettes which focus thought and feeling on the complexities of modern living. The group was brought on campus by the combined efforts of the Baptist Campus Ministry and the Jacksonville Campus Ministry.

From 2:00 til 4:00 p.m. Alpha Sigma Pi was active in their annual Accounting Day event. This was mainly a Career Day Orientation for interested students from FJC. Speakers on the program were: Timothy Bell, Assistant Manager of the Tax Department, Seaboard Coastline; Stephen Rosner, CPA, Ernst & Ernst Accounting Firm; Royce Lyles, Director of Finance, City of Jacksonville; and Dr. Frederick M. Cole, UNF Accounting Department. Refreshments were served after the business of the day and a general consensus is that Accounting Day was a successful and enjoyable occasion.

Also, on this day S.A.M. held a business meeting and on Wednesday, October 20, the Parrish trophy will be awarded to the winner of an athletic event sponsored by the club. S.A.M. will meet again on Thursday, Oct. 21, at 1:30 p.m., 003/1381. The featured speaker will be Donald Begosh, Executive Director of the International Society for the Advancement of Management. This man is nationally known and everyone who is interested in hearing a speaker of such prominence is invited to attend.

Both the History Club and the Psychology Club are off to a good start this quarter. Each held an organizational meeting on Oct. 6; an election of new officers was the main item on the agenda. The History Club held a meeting and a 'bring your own sandwich' luncheon in the History Commons on Oct. 18 at noon. Drinks were provided. The club's new president is Walter Proper.

The Psychology Club will meet on Oct. 29 at 1:00 p.m. in the Coffeehouse, building 9. This, too, will be a 'bring your own lunch' affair. New officers for this club are: George Regan, president; Manley Grooms, vice-president; Pat Carter, treasurer; and Barbara Walters, secretary.

The Propeller Club hosted a picnic on Saturday, Oct. 2, which was a huge success. Quite a large crowd enjoyed the cook-out at the boathouse. Future plans are, tentatively, tours of both the Jacksonville Shipyards and the Jacksonville International Airport.

Representatives from the PHE and the Eta Sigma Gamma clubs attended the State FAHPR Conference in Orlando on Oct. 15-16. Eta Sigma Gamma also sent representatives to the National Conference which was held in Miami on Oct. 18-20. The National Art Education Association representatives attended a State Art Educational Conference on Oct. 15-16 in Pensacola.

CLUBS

Be sure to remember the following meetings:

SGA, UNF Assembly Hall, Oct. 21, 5:00 p.m.

Phi Beta Lambda, Coffeehouse, bldg. 9, Oct. 26, 7:30 p.m.

BCM Lunch Encounter, Baptist Student Center, Oct. 28, 12:15 p.m.

Toastmistress, Coffeehouse, Bldg. 9, Nov. 8, 6:00 p.m.

Phi Beta Lambda will be holding Open House when it meets on October 26. And call B.J. Brown, 646-2500, for information on off-campus meetings of the Toastmistress Club.

Other clubs have interesting things coming up; watch the campus bulletin boards and local papers for time and place. It is good to see UNF's organizations so active with such a broad variety of events.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA OPENS MEMBERSHIP

Lowell Lorbeer, Psi Rho Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega president, announces that they are opening membership to all students — day, night, undergraduate and graduate. Open rush meetings can be signed up for in A-Phi-O box in the Student Activities Office, bldg. 10. APO, a national service fraternity in Jacksonville, is dedicated to leadership, friendship and service in over 550 colleges with 10 in Florida. APO's service projects include: UNF Blood Bank and the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Drive as well as helping the Boy Scouts, Goodwill Industries Good Turn Day, ushering Miss Senior High Pageant, decorating the Boat-house, the Red Ball project, the Handicapped Olympics at Bolles Academy and assisting new students at registration. For more information, contact Lowell Lorbeer at 771-7403 or honorary members Mike Argento or Dick Reisinger, Student Activities Office.

COME ONE COME ALL

UNF students and other personnel can start their Christmas Shopping early when the UNF Woman's Club holds a bazaar on campus in November. The bazaar is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 4, from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. and for Friday, Nov. 5 from 9:00 to 5:00.

The ladies of the club have worked long and hard to make the bazaar a success and will have a variety of articles for sale which they made by hand. A partial list includes: Christmas ornaments, bonnets, stuffed animals, bun holders, hand-crocheted ponchos, footies and hanging plants.

The proceeds from the sale will be used to benefit the club's scholarship fund. So please help them in this effort and, at the same time, do a big part of your Christmas shopping.

UNF DEMOCRATS RALLY

Are you a registered Democrat? Are you presently working on a campaign for the upcoming elections? Or just interested in the Democratic party? If so, contact Ila Pagel or Thelma Cribbs in Student Activities, 646-2875. An organizational meeting will be held Tuesday, October 26, at noon, 010/1217.

SKILLS CENTER CORNER
'Silver Tongue' Event

The Academic Enrichment and Skills Center is pleased to announce its sponsorship of a new program on campus—the UNF Intercollegiate Forensics Team. Ozzie Banicki, who has coached the FJC Forensics Team to national recognition, will serve as the UNF team's coach.

Ozzie brings to our campus two of his former FJC students: Alan Ceballos, who placed fifth in national competition two years ago; and Keith Gold, an experienced team member who has been a finalist in a number of intercollegiate tournaments. With these two speakers and additional new members from the UNF campus, Ozzie is confident that he can lead the UNF team to a position of leadership and prominence.

A step in that direction will be the hosting of the Florida Crown Individual Events Classic on campus on the third and fourth of December. In accordance with I.E. National rules, this tournament will feature eight events: rhetorical criticism; extemporaneous, impromptu, persuasive, and expository speaking; prose reading, poetry reading, and duo interpretation. We hope that this event will launch our team successfully, and help put UNF, as well as UNF Forensics, "on the map."

HYPNOTHERAPY

A second section of Hypnotherapy will begin on Monday, October 18, at 2:00, led by Dr. Travis Carter. This program is the follow-up to the Self-Hypnosis courses taught each quarter at UNF and is open to all qualified students, faculty and staff. The other section of Hypnotherapy, led by Dr. Johnny Arnette, will continue to meet at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday mornings. Both sections meet in Building 9/ Room 2543.

HEALTH OFFICE HINTS

Good News! The Health Office, in cooperation with the Public Health Department will be administering the Swine Flu Vaccine. The date is Tuesday, November 2 from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. This will be the only day the vaccine is administered on campus. If you cannot make this date, check with the health office for referral to alternate available sites. Remember you must be over 18 years of age, and exhibit no allergy to egg protein. You must also be free from fever at the time of vaccination

SUPERMAN
October 29

IT'S SUPERMAN!

Faster than a speeding bullet . . . able to leap tall buildings in a single bound . . . stronger than a locomotive! Look! Up in the sky! It's a bird! It's a plane! No, it's Superman!

In this ambitious retrospective, Superman, alias Clark Kent, mild-mannered reporter for the Metropolis Daily Planet, returns to fight the forces of evil in his never-ending battle against crime! For a nostalgic treat of unprecedented proportion, four half-hour episodes from the outstanding television series that aired during the 1950's have been programmed back-to-back in a unique feature film.

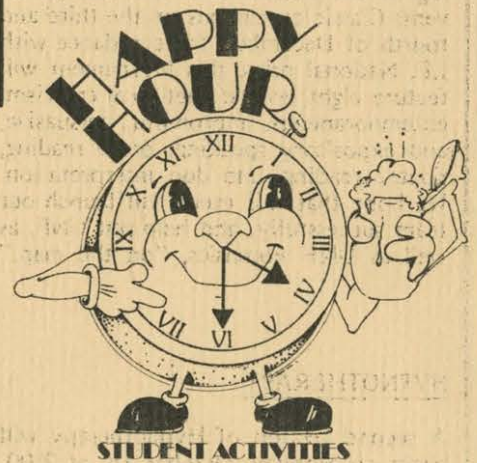

The four titles featured are "The Mysterious Cube," "Superman's Wife," "The Perils of Superman," and "The Town That Wasn't." Each is a classic example of the flamboyant action-adventure formula that made Superman the prototype of charismatic super-heroes.

Hi, there. I'm sure you're beginning to love my happy face by now since I always bring glad tidings. This time it's about Gene Cotton, a really super guy. Haven't steered you wrong yet, have I? Wasn't I right about the Rotagilla and the Cowford County bands? Really good fellas. Cowford even played thru the rain and for encores, sure signs of all right guys.

Got your happy face ready? Okay!

See you at the Boathouse Friday, Nov. 5, when ol' Gene brings some 'cotton-pickin' good entertainment.

INTERESTED IN TAKING ON A RIDER!
(Immediate Need!)

I need a ride to and from UNF (5 days a week, 8:30-5:00). I live at the south end of Jax. Beach and would be a paying rider.

SGA NEWS

University of North Florida

VOL. 1 NO. 3

Insert compiled by SGA

KEEPING UP WITH SGA

The Student Government Association joined UNF's faculty and career service in sponsoring the United Way campaign here on campus. In case you weren't aware of it, September 27–October 1 was United Way Activities Week.

Fund raising activities included a sing-along at the Boathouse, a student and faculty vs. administration baseball game and a Happy Hour at the Boathouse.

The SGA office also held open house all week to provide students with an opportunity to meet their SGA officers, senators and representatives.

Though United Way week is over, SGA's open house continues. Drop by ——— Building 9, room 1103.

SGA will be holding an election October 25 and 26 to fill one senate and several house of representative seats. You have until October 22 to sign up to run. Pick up a nomination petition in the SGA office. The only requirement is that you be a full or part time student.

Hartley Lord, SGA representative from the College of Business, is the democratic candidate for District 24, State House of Representatives seat.

The State Council of Student Body Presidents will be meeting October 29, 30 and 31 on UNF's campus.

The Board of Regents will also be meeting here on November 1. Both meetings are open to the public.

SGA has a new position open. It's Executive Assistant to the President. Applications are available in the SGA office. Clerical skills and experience are required. It's part time--15 hours a week. The pay? Up to $3.50 per hour for CWSP students and up to $3.00 per hour for OPS students.

This position was made available through the reallocation of funds transferred to SGA from the Student Affairs Office.

The SGA workshops, previously scheduled for Saturday, October 9, will be re-scheduled. The workshops are:

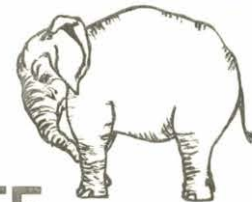

- 1) Parliamentary Procedures.
- 2) Activity & Service Fees, by-laws, etc.
- 3) State Council of Student Body Presidents and Florida Student Association of Student Senates.
- 4) SGA office procedures.

The next SGA meeting will be on Thursday, October 21, at 5:00 p.m. Location--Building 9, Room 1101. Plan to come.
