UNF STUDENT TAKES ANNUAL FLA. SCHOLARSHIP, $600 AND THREE DAYS IN HOLLYWOOD BEACH

Frank Luksha, a senior transportation and logistics major, has been announced as winner of the 1976-77 Florida Trucking Association's Transportation Scholarship Award.

Frank's award includes a $600 scholarship and an all expense paid trip to Hollywood Beach for the F.T.A. annual convention. At the convention, meeting November 21 - 23, Frank will be presented to the F.T.A. members and officially recognized as this year's "winner."

Frank, who will graduate this coming June, entered U.N.F. in August, 1974 as a TRL major. His studies have paid off even before the announcement of the F.T.A. award. This summer, while studying a local warehouse operation as part of an applied TRL course, Frank so impressed management with his grasp of and solution to one of his problems that he was invited to stay on and develop his ideas. Frank is currently working part-time for Grimes Warehouse while finishing his course work.

The entire U.N.F. community is proud of another of its outstanding students. In this case, what can we say but, "Frank, keep on truckin'!"

Dr. Jane Decker, Director
Venture Theatre

VENTURE THEATRE

Venture Theatre at the University of North Florida will present Theatre of the Absurd November 12, 13, 19 and 20 at 8:00 p.m. in the campus assembly hall. Samuel Beckett's "Play" and Eugene Ionesco's "The Chairs" make up the program which will be presented free to the public.

Directed by Mary Brumbaugh, "Play" explores the responses of three people trapped in an unknown environment where they are under the control of a beam of light. "The Chairs," directed by Stephen Parrish, portrays two old people on an island where they are isolated not only from the world but from themselves and each other as well. Both plays are clear and powerful examples of theatre of the absurd as developed by such significant playwrights as Beckett and Ionesco. Like the broader existential philosophy that informs theatre of the absurd, both playwrights are concerned with the absurdity of human existence and the struggle to give meaning to individual lives.

The cast for "Play" includes Ty Anderson, John Culson Boles, Cathy Clifford and Conni Rayl. Appearing in "The Chairs" are Bill Bennett, Dean Chateaufneuf and Meredith Normington. The production is sponsored by the UNF Council of the Arts and Student Activities and produced by Dr. Jane Decker. Reservations are advised and may be obtained by phoning the UNF Department of Fine Arts at 646-2960.

SCARRITT ADMISSIONS COUNSELOR TO BE ON CAMPUS

Ms. Marilyn Crosby from Scarritt College in Nashville, Tennessee will be on the campus of University of North Florida on Monday, November 15, 1976, from 11:00 to 1:00 p.m. She will be available to speak with interested students about careers in the church. Ms. Crosby will be discussing the major programs offered to graduate students at Scarritt in the areas of: Christian Education, Christian Life and Thought, Christian World Missions, Church and Community, and Evangelism.

Scarritt College is a senior college and graduate school of the United Methodist Church designed for the education of lay workers. Its graduates serve the church in every state of the union and in fifty-nine foreign countries. Members of last year's class received an average of seven job offers upon graduation.

Those interested in discussing full-time careers in the church should contact the Reverend Robert Thomason, Campus Minister, at 744-3466.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

The annual Thanksgiving Conference for International Students will again be held at beautiful Lake Yale near Leesburg, Fla., Nov. 25-27.

Sponsored by Baptist Campus Ministry, the event draws hundreds of foreign students from campuses all over the state and gives them an opportunity to see some of Florida and meet students from other schools.

The cost is $5.00 and reservations must be made with Rev. Bill Stroup (phone 744-0455) by Nov. 17. The fee covers motel for two nights plus six meals. Further information can be obtained through the Campus Ministry Office, Bldg. 1, Rm. 2317.

BCM BOOKTABLE

The idea behind this "floating display" is not primarily to sell books but to provide an opportunity for exchanging ideas about Christianity. The student operated table will be set up Nov. 2 (5:00-8:00 p.m.), Nov. 10 (5:00-8:00 p.m.), Nov. 18 (9:00-12:00 p.m.) and Nov. 22 (1:00-4:00 p.m.). Baptist Campus Ministry encourages you to stop by for "freebies" or purchase items.

CLUBS

On Thursday, October 21, Donald Begosh, Executive Director of the International Society for the Advancement of Management (S.A.M.), spoke at a campus meeting of the local chapter. His speech gave the audience a better insight of the organization's purpose and philosophy--of what S.A.M. is and of what service it can be to the students. Exciting news to local members is the fact that Mr. Begosh was here to create a senior chapter of S.A.M. He said that the new chapter will provide a direct line to the Jacksonville business community and give students a place to continue on through S.A.M. at a more professional level.

A dinner held the same night was attended by approximately 50 people of top-level executive status for the purpose of establishing the chapter; prospects are very promising that it will soon be set up and operating effectively in the community. The chapter will fill a great need here and help the local membership tremendously, especially in the areas of scholarships and funding. According to Dr. Robert Ford, advisor for S.A.M. at UNF, it is through the initiative and untiring efforts of former UNF student Cary Williams that plans were begun for the senior chapter; to Cary goes the plaudits and the gratitude of the Jacksonville community.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

The Political Science Club in conjunction with Student Activities held an Election Return Party at the Boathouse Tuesday, November 2. Refreshments were provided and a great time was had by the large crowd attending.

The Political Science Club has established its committees for the next year. One of these will be an advisory committee on curriculum of both the Under-Graduate program in Political Science and the new Graduate program in Public Administration.

Eta Sigma Gamma, UNF Health Club, will be sponsoring a lecture by Phil Roundtree, Administrator for Health, Safety, Physical Education and Summer Programs from the Department of Education, Tallahassee. Mr. Roundtree will speak on Monday, November 15, at 1:30 p.m. in building 8, room 2113. His topic will be "Responsibility and Role of the State Department and Federal Government in the Development of School Health Policies." Everyone is invited.

UNF ARCHERY CLUB

Congratulations go to Jack Winn, Paul Henderson, Joe McCules and Kathy Evans for their support of the 1976-77 Archery Team. After the first tournament on November 6, 1976, the rest of the season should go very smoothly. Thanks. W.S. Sanders, President

SAWMILL SLOUGH

The Sawmill Slough Conservation Club held its November meeting Wednesday night of November 3. Bruce Rouek, from the Mayor's Commission on Energy, gave an interesting talk on "Current Energy Conservation Strategies." The November outing will be the Okeefenokee swamp on the weekend of November 19-21. Reserve your canoe early. Keep in mind the Christmas party which will be held December 11--look for details in the next Campus Up-Date.

PHI BETA LAMBDA

Phi Beta Lambda held its Open House Wednesday, October 26. The next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday, November 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the Coffeehouse of building 9. Future plans of the club include a field trip to Bell Telephone Company on December 13 and a Christmas party December 19. For further information, contact Pat Fiedler, ext. 2981.

UNF HISTORY CLUB

The UNF History Club has held its first, second and third organizational meetings. The product thereof is as follows:

For those who wish to take a more active role in the club and its activities please contact either Walter Proper (249-7057), Barbara Whitehead (725-6052), Judy Melcher (744-6769), Diane Tall (Student Asst.'s office--History Dept.), or Ann Radwan, the club's faculty advisor (646-2888).

PERSONAL AND CAREER

Many students are unaware that counseling help is available to them without charge in the University's Counseling Services.

Personal counseling, which may often involve marital, divorce or family counseling, and vocational and career testing and counseling, are available.

Students who feel pressured by their studies, who suffer from test anxiety, are unsure of their educational and career goals, or who feel in any other way that they are unable to do their best in their studies, should make an appointment to see one of the counselors in Building One, Student Affairs.

Counseling Services will also advise of Self-Hypnosis for Relaxation and Personal Development, on Hypnotherapy, the follow-up for Self-Hypnosis, and on external examinations such as CLEP and GRE, which are administered by this office.

The Counseling Services office is open from 9:00 to 5:00, but students in the evening division will be accommodated whenever it is possible to do so. To make an appointment, call 646-2600, or stop by Student Affairs, Building One, between 9:00 and 5:00, Monday through Friday.

SKILLS CENTER CORNER

A happy addition to the staff of the Academic Enrichment and Skills Center is Cindy Carr, a graduate student who is working in the Center as a part of her practicum. Cindy is a certified speech therapist and has had practical experience in the Duval County schools. She is anxious to work with students who would like to improve any aspect of their speaking skills. Drop by the Center or call 646-2766.

If you tried to register for self-hypnosis earlier and found all groups filled, come by the Center and register for the new group--the eighth to be conducted this quarter. Self-hypnosis can be utilized to improve one's self in many areas, for example, test taking skills, study skills, and in altering eating and smoking habits.

A new offering currently being developed is the Writing Lab. Students who would like to work on their writing skills may drop by the Center at any time and utilize the resources available there. Qualified tutors are available to give assistance, if needed.

MCCABE AND MRS. MILLER

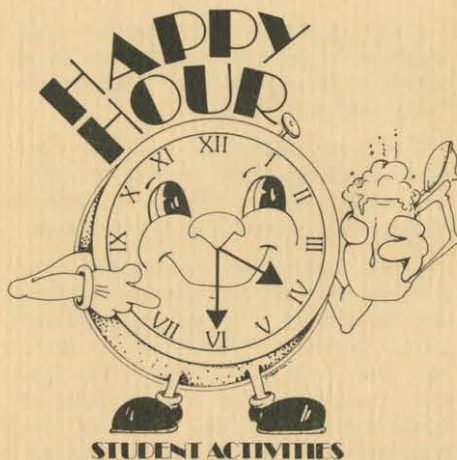

December 3

Credit Robert Altman's genius for this compelling, authentic portrait of the 1902 zinc mining town called Presbyterian Church (named for the tallest building in town). Credit the muted ambiance of hazy, smoky air; the bone-chilling blizzard; the haunting refrains of Leonard Cohen's ballad for recreating with startling accuracy the frontier myth of America's past. This is what the West was like, primitive, miserable, violent and full of despair.

Robert Altman has captured every nuance of atmosphere in a visual work of outstanding sensual beauty. Warren Beatty, in perhaps the most absorbing role of his career, stars as the grizzled, small-time gambler whose business is bringing pleasure to Presbyterian Church. Julie Christie stars as the frizzled, hard-nosed madame who coerces him into setting her up in business and splitting the profits. When their prosperous enterprise attracts the local mobsters, Beatty's choice becomes that of selling out or getting shot.

Full of rich detail and powerful moodiness, "McCabe & Mrs. Miller" proves again that Robert Altman is a filmmaker of extraordinary talents.

"I don't expect to see a better movie this year."...National Observer

Well! Here's looking at you--and for the fourth time. Bet you're beginning to feel like I'm an old friend, right? Good! I like you, too. Are you enjoying our good times together? Well of course you are! I just have so much fun at those Happy Hours. Now, don't you forget that we have a surprise in store for our "get together" at the Boathouse on the 19th. I sure would miss you if you didn't show up--I might even forget to smile. What a horrible thought! So you be sure to show, you hear? I'll be looking for you.

Do you have a hidden talent? Show it!

KEEPING UP WITH SGA

Why would anyone want to climb a mountain? "Because it's there!"

Why would anyone want to join the Student Government Association? "Because it's there? Because it would look good on their resume?"

Well, there is a madness to any method--or is it there is a method to any madness? Whichever--here are why some SGA members became involved.

LINDA ANDERSON--Representative, College of Education. Elementary Education Major.

"I really was never active in high school. I wanted to get involved for personal growth and to do things for the University Community."

PATTI LEVINE BRUNSON--Senator, College of Arts and Sciences. Liberal Arts Major.

"I wanted to become involved in the University Community and help improve communications between students, faculty and administration."

BRENDA CAIN--Secretary. Sociology Major.

"Because SGA was just forming. I was a charter member and wanted to get involved. I felt SGA was very important to the university."

CHARLES DIVER--Representative, College of Arts and Sciences. Psychology Major.

"Student government and apathy have been synonymous for too long. Change for improvement is necessary. The only way to effect change is by participation."

LANE FUQUA--Representative, College of Education. Education-Health Science Major.

"I wanted to do more than just be a student at UNF. I wanted to be an active working part of our university and this community--so I joined Student Government."

VICKI HARRISON--Representative, College of Arts and Sciences. Literature-Communications Major.

"I feel the SGA is a growing influence. There are many things I would like to see changed in the University Community. Change cannot be affected without involvement."

OLIVER WEBB--Representative, College of Business. Transportation, Logistics and Management Major.

"The SGA has a real role, in my eyes, in coordinating the students' interests with the university's purpose and seeing to it that communications between the student committees and faculty and administration are on better grounds in the future."

JIM WELLS--Treasurer. Transportation, Logistics and Management Major.

"To get involved with the campus community."

Can you identify these people? If not watch for the next issue of Campus Up-Date. (Hint--they are SGA members.)

The SGA workshops have been rescheduled. They will now be held on November 13 from 12:00 to 3:00 p.m. The workshops are designed to help SGA members become more familiar with SGA procedures and function. The workshops are:

The next SGA meeting is scheduled for November 23 at 12:00 noon; the following one--December 1 at 4:00 p.m. Both meetings will be held in Building 9, Room 1101. All UNF students are urged to come.

- 1) Parlimentary procedures.
- 2) Activity and Service fees, by-laws, etc.
- 3) State Council of Student Body Presidents and Florida Student Association of Student Senates.
- 4) SGA office procedures.
