ZTA Initiation an Event of the Month

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Since its founding at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia, in 1898, the ideals of Zeta Tau Alpha have grown. The numbers have also grown from nine members to thousands but each is linked by a common bond - sisterhood.

On the weekend of February-18th, Theta Iota Colony will come into her own as a Chapter. Theta Iota is honored to have Mrs. Shearer, National President, and Mrs. Jackson, National Vice President-Collegiate, presiding over the weekend activities.

We are also pleased to have: Mrs. Galm, Province President; Ms. J. Kimball, National Field Secretary; Mrs. Helganz, Alumnae President; and women from Gamma Iota Chapter here for this exciting event. Local alumnae will also be working closely with the Chapter during this time.

Initiation will begin on Friday and continue through Saturday. Installation of the chapter and charter members will be held following initiation. Later Saturday evening initiates and guests will attend a banquet held in their honor. Sunday, Theta Iota Chapter will attend the services of the Avondale Baptist Church, which has given us the use of its facilities during the weekend. The final event is a reception to be held on the UNF campus.

Theta Iota is proud of its 19 members and plans to continue to grow and to be of service to the University of North Florida.

Activity Period Re-instated!

'Once upon a time' there existed at UNF a time slot on the course schedule booklet which was designated as an activity period. During this time - 11:50 a.m. to 1:20 p.m. - students (and faculty) could take a lunch or study break or - anyone who belonged to a campus club or other organization was free to join in the activities which the organization sponsored. As a result, UNF organizations became strong with many members actively participating. And - both students and faculty were better prepared for evening classes with mental faculties refreshed by the break.

Meeting of ICAC

However, this period was removed from the schedule in the Fall of '76. Supposedly, more students would benefit from the new schedule since it included 'split' time blocks which would help in selecting a class schedule without personal conflicts.

Apparently, the former schedule proved more acceptable to the student body as a whole for, during the summer and fall quarters, by popular request, the Student Government Association placed - in strategic locations on campus - forms petitioning for the re-instatement of the activity period. More than 300 student names were signed to the petition forms which SGA then presented to Vice-President Lassiter for his consideration.

Below is a copy of a memorandum which shows the result of SGA's efforts on behalf of UNF's student body.

February 7, 1977

To: Dr. Roy L. Lassiter, Moderator of the Senate
From: Joseph E. Smyth, SGA Vice President
Re: Activities Period

On behalf of the SGA, ICAC and the over 300 students who signed the petitions, I would like to express our appreciation for your announcement of February 1, 1977 in regards to the Activities Period. As you stated the Activities period will become a part of the Spring Quarter 1977 and will be on Tuesday/Thursday from 12:20 p.m. to 1:30 p.m.

S.A.M. Week Set

Due to the varied number of programs and activities planned for the week of February 21-26, this six-day period has been designated S.A.M. Week . . . and what a week it will be . . . First on the agenda is a speaker program to be held on February 23 - annual Executive of the Day event - in building 11, Commons area. Present will be two distinguished individuals from the Jacksonville community; Mr. William Cook, president of William Cook Advertising, Inc., and Ms. Emily Retherford, attorney with the Consumer Affairs Division. Mr. Cook will discuss the vital function advertising plays in the Marketing Mix of an organization. Both will be available for questioning after the formal presentations.

Friday, February 25, will be a very busy day. A tour of the Florida Publishing Company has been scheduled for 9:30 a.m. All interested persons are asked to meet either in the Student Activities office at 8:45 a.m., where we will leave as a group, or at the Publishing Company on Riverside Avenue by 9:20 a.m. We will return to the University by noon. At 4:00 p.m. of the same day, S.A.M. and the faculty will once again contend for the Parrish Cup - this time in a volley ball game. The court is located behind the Boathouse across the main drive; everyone is urged to participate . . . contact coach Angela Eakin - 771-4127 - if interested. S.A.M. will provide 'refreshments' following the game.

To top the week off, a party has been set for February 26 at 8:00 p.m. For further information, watch the bulletin boards for posted signs.

PHI BETA LAMBDA BETA ALPHA ALPHA CHAPTER

Phi Beta Lambda is a national collegiate business fraternity sponsored by the National Business Education Association in Washington, D.C. Any student interested in the field of business is urged to become a member in preparation for leadership in the business world.

Phi Beta Lambda was established nationally in 1958. At the end of the 1970 school year, the total membership in the organization had reached more than 11,000. Phi Beta Lambda (PBL) at UNF was chartered by six members on March 15, 1974, as the Beta Alpha Alpha Chapter. Since chartering, the chapter has grown to 28 members. These consist of part-time, full-time, undergraduate and graduate students.

Students have participated in a variety of activities in the past years, such as District, State, and National Phi Beta Lambda Leadership Conferences. Members entered several areas of competition at the state level; the chapter won second place in Chapter Membership Growth at the state conference. Dr. Evelyn Drunson, sponsor of UNF's chapter and one of the fraternity's officers, served as judge in several areas of competition on both the state and national levels.

PBL assists local Future Business Leaders of America Chapter at the high school level. Several members are actively serving as sponsors for the school chapter where they are employed as secondary teachers. Other PBL members have judged FBLA District Leadership Conference.

Guest speakers are on occasion asked to speak at our monthly meetings on subjects of interest to the group.

PBL members look forward to an active and interesting 1976-77 year. Anyone interested in joining PBL may contact Dr. Evelyn Brunson or Pat

Fiedler at 646-2980, or stop by the PBL office in Room 2221, Building 8.

COMING EVENTS:

February 25 - The UNF, PHI BETA LAMBDA members will serve as judges for the local high school's PBL Contest at Jones College.

March 8 - Regular PBL monthly meeting.

BCM-JAX

The Baptist Campus Ministry is sponsoring a film on February 24 from one o'clock in the afternoon until 5:30 p.m. The film is entitled "The Sun Seekers" and should be especially interesting to anyone who likes surfing. Drop by at the UNF Assembly Hall for an enjoyable afternoon.

ROTC now has two full-time instructors on campus. The Army ROTC Extension Center at UNF is now fully functional with Army Captain Richard J. McDowell and Staff Sergeant G. Mark Howard installed in offices upstairs in building 8. The room number is 2551 - phone extension 2813. We extend congratulations and a welcome to the Captain and the Sergeant.

Attention Veterans

Recent changes in V.A. Regulations have, among other things, created the provision that withdrawal from a course may result in the veteran having to repay monies received for attending that course.

The V.A. is also refusing to pay for courses previously completed with a passing grade or for courses not within the veteran's approved program of study.

Spring registration for current students is approaching. In light of the above mentioned changes, veterans apprehensive about their proposed enrollment should contact their academic advisor and the University's Office of Veterans Affairs before committing themselves.

From Fine Arts

The Fine Arts Department, together with the Council of Fine Arts, has kept the UNF library quite colorful during the Fall and Winter quarters. Currently being displayed are artistic endeavors from UNF alumni.

Previously on display in the University Library was an exhibition of paintings, ceramics and photography by students of the Art Department of the University of North Florida.

The Paintings, by students of Charles Charles, ranged from realism through variations of abstractions, at times bordering on Minimalism.

Ceramics by students of Kenneth McMillan suggest organic or amoebic forms, as well as more traditional vase forms, and involved experiments in salt glazing and stoneware reduction pottery.

Especially rich in quantity was the show of photography by students of Paul Ladnier's class, which presented a panorama of visual subjects.

The exhibition continued through Friday, January 28th, and was sponsored jointly by the Fine Arts Department, Student Activities and the Council of the Arts.

Scheduled next on the Arts agenda is a ceramics exhibit by Marilyn Taylor. This display is set for February 31 through March 18. Ms. Taylor has her graduate degree from the University of Florida. She is the artist in residence for the Duval County School System; this is her second year in this area. Ms. Taylor holds workshops for teachers in the Duval County School System and also conducts workshops in her office located at Edward White High School.

Alumni Art

The Department of Fine Arts 1st Annual Invitational Alumni Art Exhibit, at the University of North Florida library, is on display through February 18th and consists of ten artists with twenty-nine art works, mainly paintings and drawings, one photo, two prints and six ceramics.

drawing becomes almost a painting. Phil Moore's unstretched, rectangular wall canvasses involve rough bands of delicately keyed color; Dave Lauderdale's painterly circular canvasses feature peripheral color circles which visually spin around the outer 7 ft. contour of unstretched linen canvas.

The Raku pots by Kathy Slaughter are poetic in substance; Charles Hudson's boxes are conceptual in nature. The drawings offer some variety of subject matter predominately using the human figure, seemingly as a preoccupation with social overtones. These artists include Pat Gionet and Dorienne Robertson; B. Arnall offers one train photo and two formal prints of vegetables.

The exhibit is sponsored by the UNF Council of the Arts and Student Activities with funds allocated by the Student Government Association.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Venture Theatre to Present "Twelfth Night"

The Venture Theatre at the University of North Florida will present William Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" February 25 and 26 and again on March 4 and 5 at 8:00 p.m. in the Assembly Hall on the UNF campus. Admission is free, although ticket reservations should be made by contacting the Department of Fine Arts at 646-2960.

"Twelfth Night," one of Shakespeare's best and most popular comedies, will be directed by Dr. Jane Decker. The production will be set in 1890's Paris rather than Elizabethan England with Art Nouveau sets and costumes. The production attempts to link Shakespeare's play with the "eat, drink and be merry" atmosphere of that time and with the climate of contemporary life and culture. The cast is comprised of UNF students and faculty as well as members of the Jacksonville community.

This production is sponsored by the UNF Council of the Arts and Student Activities with funds allocated by the Student Government.

Cleopatra Jones

An appreciative audience enjoyed "Cleopatra Jones," a film shown on Friday evening of February 11 in the UNF Assembly Hall. This film was chosen in honor of Black History Week which was celebrated during the following week. Black History Week has become one of UNF's traditions, since its inception in 1973. Both the University of North Florida and Jacksonville University join with the Jacksonville community in paying tribute to our black populace during this event.

SAWMILL SLOUGH

The January Slough meeting was quite interesting and different. The main attraction was two timber wolves which were brought by the Clem & Jethro Lecture Series from Chicago. The program concerned a plea for the preservation of all endangered species including the timber wolves.

Election of officers for the new year was also held at this meeting. The are as follows:

President - Sue Leger
Vice President - Ray Lewis
Secretary - Sharon Anderson
Treasurer - Phyllis Phillips

At the February meeting the featured speakers were two water pollution specialists from the Division of Bio-Environmental Services. The topic of discussion was Environmental Pollution Abatement in Jacksonville.

A camping trip to the Aucilla and Wakulla Rivers in Northwest Florida was a January event. Despite freezing temperatures, everyone had an enjoyable trip.

February's trip will be to the Cumberland Island National Seashore in Georgia on the weekend of February 26 and 27. For information concerning this trip, and the March meeting, contact Sue Leger (2900) or Ray Bowman (2518).

Archery Club President Still a Champ

On February 19 the State Collegiate Indoor Championship will be held in Orlando, Florida, at the Southeastern Archery Shop. Last month, during the BBC Invitational Indoor Meet in Orlando, William Sanders tied for first place individualist men but after the tie breaker he came away with second place. Williams is the University Archery Club president and was state champion in 76.

Propeller Club News

CONTEST: A National Essay Contest is being sponsored by the Propeller Club of the United States and its local member ports. CASH AWARDS and a GRAND PRIZE for the LOCAL WINNER consisting of a 30 DAY CRUISE TO EUROPE! The deadline is March 1; for theme objectives and further details consult the Transportation and Logistics Dept. in bldg. 11.

TOURS & EVENTS: If looking for informative and rewarding experiences join us: tours of the Sears-Imeson industrial complex, Jax Shipyards, and the Busch brewery are on the agenda; also a guest speaker and a business forum.

MEETINGS: Club meetings are held on the 1st and 3rd Thursday of each month in bldg. 11, room 2201, at 10:30 a.m.

Political Science Club

The Political Science Club celebrated the "Carter Inaugural" at a "Get Acquainted Party" January 21, 1977. The Club has been occupied with promoting the much needed "Masters of Public Administration." The Club sincerely hopes that the University acts quickly and the Board of Regents acts justly in securing the MPA for the Fall of 1977-78. The Club is also working on a "Legislative Day," so the students of UNF will have an opportunity to meet the Duval Delegation in an informal setting.

Soccer Corner

The UNF Soccer Club was organized solely for the purpose of providing UNF students a chance to participate in soccer - the fastest growing sport in America. Each student who attends the University is eligible to play. The club represents the University of North Florida and every attempt is made to reflect the academic and professional standards of this institution.

The club itself is an extension of the Intramurals program and is supported by the Intramurals Department of the University. Its basic goal is to provide opportunities for students to become involved in an athletic sport which offers recreational enjoyment. While holding to the highest sports ethics, the club excludes no one on the basis of sex, race or national origin. Club members extend a sincere welcome to all to be a part of the team and to support the club in any capacity possible.

The team was organized into a club in the fall quarter of 76 after an extensive amount of interest was shown in the sport by UNF students. Soccer is played for personal enjoyment but members are not excluded from any scholarship or financial aid because of involvement in the club. The club holds a record of 2-2-0 up to this point. More games are scheduled for the winter season. Anyone interested may contact Mathew Jacob (player-coach) through the Student Activities Office (646-2875). Adrian Hart and Tom Edel are captains of the team.

UNF Goes Liberal

Liberal Arts, That Is

Imagine a University which is so sensitive to the needs of its students that it offers a Degree Program serving less than one-half of one percent of the student body. UNF has just such a program.

This special program is the Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Studies, offered by the College of Arts and Sciences under the direction of Dr. James Crooks. Approximately 30 special students are pursuing this degree, grateful that such an opportunity exists here. I am one of those students.

Of course we are not typical students - we have to put up with some unusual questioning by students in the ordinary disciplines. We hear queries like, "You're majoring in what?" and "What are you going to do with that degree?" That's okay, we get used to it.

Those of us in Liberal Studies know why we chose this degree, and we know that its value is at least equal to any other degree offered here. We know that only Liberal Studies will allow us to explore and grow in the many directions of our interests. What can we do with it? Anything one can imagine. Our field of study encompasses the whole of man's knowledge, nothing is closed to us, we are the planners of our program; try that in an ordinary degree program. Some use Liberal Studies to prepare for law, some for business, some of us are writers, some artists, some in the theatre, some filmmakers, some use it as a way to a more fulfilling life. You name it. But we are all people who believe that education is more than learning a skill to hold a job.

After all, one spends less than one-fourth of his life working. What of the rest? Shouldn't his education be applicable and enhancing to the other three-fourths of his life? That's what Liberal Studies is all about. Those of us in this very special program want to learn more about everything, and find that we can do just that.

One myth frequently heard is that Liberal Studies is a snap. Ask anyone who is actually in the program - the response will be emphatically "NO!" Yes, we do design our own programs, our individual expositions are of our own choosing, but the quality of what we do must meet standards that are roughly equivalent to a Master's Thesis. A Liberal Studies Committee, consisting of 12 instructors - each with a doctorate - representing practically every academic discipline, evaluates our progress and acts as counselors. They are also mentors of the highest order. Very qualified help in all areas is available to us, instructors who are highly qualified critics as well. Liberal Studies is no snap.

All of this talent, all of this ability for less than one-half of one percent of the students? Yes. That's Liberal Studies.

- Hugh Higley

Another Tradition in UNF's Future?

The 'grapevine' has it that Dr. James Crooks, chairman of the History department, may add a 'laurel to his crown' if he so desires. The "First Conference on Jacksonville History," of which he was coordinator, was highly successful and indications are that the event will become another in the young University's growing list of traditions. Thank you, Dr. Crooks.

Building 10 Loses 'Island' Status

Someone once said, "No man is an island," I guess that applies to buildings too. Building 10 is losing its island status . . . finally. Construction began shortly after Christmas on a crosswalk to join building 10 to building one. At this time the completion date is set for March 31, however, everyone knows of the problems which beset construction work.

Those "fortuitous" souls who have braved the rain and ever-present

Hawk (cold wind) between buildings are to be commended.

For anyone who doesn't know, building 10 houses the offices of Student Activities and Student Health Services. Oh yes, several classrooms are there too, and parts of the Colleges of Business and Arts and Sciences, including the deans' offices. Though the crosswalk is not yet completed we can all look forward to welcoming building 10 into the UNF building family.

After all, 'No building should be an island.' Should it?

Yes, Virginia, We Did Have Snow

No doubt about it - it snowed in Jacksonville and UNF students loved it. Gray skies, blanketed with clouds, showered strange white particles on those - students, faculty and staff alike - who stood with bare heads gazing skyward in amazement. A little grumbling was heard from a few non-southern souls to whom falling snow was no miracle. As one student put it, "I came 500 miles to get away from this." But most of us behaved like kids with new toys - we loved it. Yet we hope the snow will continue to be an occasional occurrence, visiting once each five or ten years, perhaps, so we may still enjoy it.

Ψ LATE NEWS - On Campus And Off

Psych Club Offers Panel Discussion

UNF's Psychology Club will present Drs. Chamblin and Hartje of the Psychology department and Rev. Steinhauer, Cosmic Church of Truth, in a panel discussion on Feb. 23 from noon to 1:20 p.m. Topic of the discussion will be "Karma vs. Heredity vs. Environment vs. Free Will." Panelists and audience will exchange ideas on causes and effects of human behavior. The event will be held in the UNF Assembly Hall; everyone is welcome.

Essay Contest

The Propeller Club of Jacksonville is sponsoring a local college essay contest - grand prize, a free trip to Europe. Entries are now being received from all area colleges. Donald Graham, UNF professor of transportation and logistics, is contest chairman. Entry deadline date is March 1. For further information, contact Professor Graham.

Financial Aid Office

1977-78 financial aid packets have been mailed to current financial aid students - any additional students needing these packets may contact the financial aid office at 646-2604.

STUDENTS

If you would like to have a 1976 UNF yearbook, please come by building 10, room 1217, and reserve a copy. This is especially important if you were a graduate last year since a limited number has been ordered due to budget problems.

Students, Faculty and Staff

If you have an article of relevance which would be of interest to the UNF community, we would like to include it in the next Up-Date. Bring it to the editor, building 10, room 1217, for consideration.

Lost and Found

The Office of Student Activities is the official depository for lost articles - if an article is found, it should be taken to this office.

Well folks, looks like budget problems have temporarily cramped our style down at ye old Boathouse. Ol' Happy Face isn't seeing quite as much of his friends lately as he'd like to. We did have a coupla fun-filled Happy Hours this quarter, didn't we? David and Carol never let us down and Larry Mangun really pepped us up last Friday. Well, we've got another treat comin' up in a coupla weeks - Barry Drake will be on campus to entertain you Boathouse 'burgers' on Friday evening of March 11. Happy Face met ol' Barry up in Charleston, S.C. where he was an NEC attraction - he's - well, I suppose captivating is the word; soft-spoken, sort of John Denverish but also sort of Bob Dylanish, too. Gentle, intense and enjoyable - that's Barry. Don't miss him - nor me; you can bet I'll be there!
