Musical Group to Perform

The off-Broadway hit musical "Journey into Blackness" will be performed by the repertory company Voices at the Civic Auditorium Tuesday March 16, at 8:30 pm. This performance is sponsored by a federal grant to the University of North Florida and Edward Waters College, distributed through the Fine Arts Council of Florida, a state agency. The UNF Office of Student Activities is also helping sponsor the event.

The musical was highly praised by New York Times chief critic Clive Barnes during its New York run, which was almost a year. The production was the subject of a CBS-TV special. RCA Victor has produced an original cast album and there has been a national college tour by the William Morris Agency.

"Journey into Blackness" uses song, dance, drama and narrative to depict the sights, sounds and inner feelings of Black Americans past and present. Complimentary tickets are available to UNF students at the Office of Student Activities.

Relaxation Through Transcendental Meditation

To be able to think more clearly, to speak more effectively, to act with more energy and creativity, and to enjoy life more. Such improvements in daily living are said to be the results of a natural, easy mental technique called transcendental meditation (or TM).

There will be two lectures on March 1. The first will be between the hours of 2:00-3:00, and the second from 8:00-9:00. Both will be in building 003, room #1381. On March 2, another lecture will be held from 7:30-8:30 at the same location. All are invited to attend.

John and Judy Finkle, of the Students' International Meditation Society (SIMS), will be giving the lecture. John says TM is not a philosophy or religion, but is a systematic, scientifically verifiable technique which unfolds each person's full potential. It is as ancient as mankind and is universal in its application.

John says that it is simple and easy to learn because it is so natural and that it will help every person fulfill his aspirations in life, be they to get better grades, to work more efficiently and with less effort, or to simply enjoy life more. Better personal relationships, increased ability to deal with problems and meet responsibilities, more inner peace, and better mental and physical health are all said to be results of this simple technique.

John Finkle has stated that a recent scientific investigation at UCLA, Stanford Research Institute, and Harvard Medical School has shown, among other things, that during TM the body receives profound relaxation and rest and is remarkably free from tension. The metabolic rate and biochemical indications of anxiety decrease considerably. The body gains a state of rest deeper than the rest of deep sleep in just 20 minutes of TM, yet the mind, as recorded by the electroencephalograph, is fully awake.

The Illinois House of Representatives has passed a resolution encouraging that state's educational institutions consider offering courses in TM and creative intelligence. Everyone is invited to the lectures on campus. See for yourself what TM can do for you.

Club News

The UNF chapter of the national service fraternity Alpha Phi Omega is now recruiting members. The fraternity, having over 500 chapters nationwide, is active in the Peace Corps, Big Brothers, scouting, the March of Dimes, and various other charities. Activities planned on campus include drug counseling, scouting's Good Turn Day, registration assistance and other campus events.

Information about the organization may be obtained at Student Activities. Interested students are invited to attend the meetings held Sunday evenings at 7:00 in the UNF Library conference room.

The Sawmill Slough Conservation Club went trippin' to Olena State Park midst snow and cold weather. This hearty band of rugged individuals even went canoeing. In spite of unfavorable conditions, they managed a nature hike 'round the Sante Fe River where two of the braver members tried out their water wings. Not to be outdone, the remainder went on a whitewater run down the famous Ichetucknee River with rest stops at the Blue Hole and Tunnel Springs.

The next planned trip is to a little known marsh in Georgia with another canoe run in the works. Due to the abundant wildlife, swimming is at your own risk. Word is out that they have put in an order for better weather this time.

How do you get on TV? Well, doin' canoe rolls didn't work so the Slough had to resort to garbage collection at Greenfield woods. The idea was that if it gets cleaned up, it won't be burned down. So it attracted a representative from the mayor and even made it on the 6 o'clock news.

All interested people are invited to attend meetings and participate in the club's functions. They are planning a camping trip for the weekend of March 23. If you would be interested in attending or desire club information, see Gerry Ray in the Student Health Office building 003, room 2421, ext.2900.

Dr. Warren Rose, Chairman of the Department of Transportation and Logistics, addressed the Jacksonville Traffic Club during their luncheon meeting on Monday, February 12. Speaking along with Dr. Rose was Jerry Nelson, president of the UNF Propeller Club. Over 80 people attended the luncheon held at Strickland's Townhouse.

On February 16, President Carpenter addressed the Propeller Club on "The University and its Role in the Community". This banquet was enjoyed by club, department, and faculty members. In addition many wives and community business leaders were also in attendance. This diverse attendance showed that the University does have a role in the community.

Following the banquet, five members of the Propeller Club received awards and scholarships from several organizations. Those receiving recognition were John Barrett from Laney and Duke Warehouse Company, Clifford Bartley Jr. from Ploof Transfer, James Richardson III from Ryder Truck Lines, David Starr from Suddath Van Lines and Steve Sutton from the Traffic Club.

February 22 was a big day for the club. At a presentation banquet in the Wilmington Room of the Seaboard Coast Line Building they received their charter and banner from the Jacksonville Propeller Club. The Jacksonville organization made the presentation on behalf of the national Propeller Club.

President Jerry Nelson received the charter and banner for the Port Propeller Club. The group is the first club on campus to receive a national charter. It is an appropriate distinction, since they were also the first club on campus to become organized and functioning.

Nelson scored another first for UNF when he received a scholarship from the Jacksonville Propeller Club. He thus became the first UNF student to receive such an award from that club.

Future events include meetings on March 1 and March 5 at 12:30 in room 003/2311. On March 5 Richard Suddath, president of Suddath Van Lines, will address the club.

All students interested in learning more about the business world are urged to attend the club's meetings.

The Port Propeller Club expressed thanks to the staff and faculty of the Transportation and Logistics Department for helping this organization become so successful.

Leonard Warrick
Secretary

Afternoon Bus Service Discontinued

Only a limited number of students have been taking advantage of the bus service that the Jacksonville Transit Authority has been rendering to UNF. Since the afternoon bus ridership has not been economically feasible for the JTA, that bus service has been discontinued. Because the morning busses serving the UNF campus have shown a greater number of students patronizing this service the JTA has agreed to continue this service with hopes of a possible future improvement.

Finance and Accounting has weekly bus passes on hand at a cost of $2.50 each. If you have any questions concerning this bus service stop by the Student Activities Office 003/2401, and talk with Mr. Argento.

Kranz's Class Hears Speaker

Thursday, February 15, 1973. What kind of day was it? A day like all others except for the undercurrent feeling of excitement, curiosity, and suspense awaiting the appearance of Michel X. The minister of the Muslim Mosque of Jacksonville and a representative of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad, was a guest speaker for Dr. Peter Kranz's "Black and White Conflict" class.

Rev. Michel X expressed the religious philosophies of the Nation of Islam, commonly called the Black Muslims. Following the lecture was a class discussion in which very divergent opinions were expressed in response to the speaker's remarks.

Photography to be on Exhibit

The photographic collection will open in the University of North Florida Library Friday, March 2. The exhibit may be viewed in the library lobby during the regular library hours through March 16.

The tour offers an opportunity for thousands of Black youth to know the Black man who is James Van DerZee.

The pieces included in the exhibition represent one man's personal relationship with the people and the world around him.

James Van DerZee's love for his craft/art has resulted in a visual record of life in and around Harlem from the turn of the century to the present. His work brings an added dimension to the study of Black History.

This series of exhibitions is free of charge to participating schools and is made possible by a grant from the Beefeater Foundation. The foundation supports specific cultural activities and recognized singular artistic achievement. The foundation considers the work of James Van DerZee of particular significance and is making his art available, for the first time, to a national audience.

The first of the series was held at the Folk Gallery, Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York. UNF is fortunate to be able to bring such an exhibit to its community.

Campus Flicks Shaping Up

At the present time the Student Activities Office is preparing to bring movies on campus for all interested students, faculty, and staff. Movies will cost between 35 and 45 cents depending on the grade of each movie. At present building 003, room 1381 is the tentative site for the movies to be shown.

It is impossible to order one particular movie or have a certain time that would please everyone, but we hope we will meet your demands through the survey that will be taken at registration.

The first semester of movies on campus will be an experimental period. Hopefully, we can designate a time that is convenient for movies to be viewed, which will meet the majority of needs. If you have any suggestions on our planned program, please see Barbara Keller in the Student Activities Office 003/2401, ext. #2876.

Artist To Appear On Campus

The Bookstore will sponsor an appearance on campus of Ruby Dillan LaRue, nationally famous artist on Friday, March 2, from 10 to 5. Miss Dillan will do black and white portraits for $10.00, and colored oils for $25.00. Place your reservation for a personal commission to draw you on that date with Mr. Weitsen in the Bookstore.

A small commission will be earned by the Bookstore that will be put in a scholarship fund. Only a limited number of requests can be accepted, so requests should be made immediately. Don't wait until Friday, it might be too late.
