UNF Coronavirus Information 2021

Ensuring a safe and healthy campus depends on all of our personal and collective behaviors and actions. We are one Osprey family, and that means we always look out for each other and support one another in challenging times. Each of us must take steps to stay well and persistently protect each other, both on campus and in the community. Creating a safe and healthy environment for all Ospreys is a shared responsibility that will include protecting your own health, while also protecting your friends, family, classmates and colleagues.

As Ospreys, we are stronger together.

At the University of North Florida, we recognize our shared responsibility to protect ourselves, our fellow students, co-workers, friends, families, and others from the spread of COVID-19.

We are Ospreys, and we care about each other.

We will protect ourselves.

We will protect others.

We will protect our UNF community.
