PASTOR COLEMAN EXPELS 20 DEACONS AND 2 TRUSTEES FROM SHILOH CHURCH FOR SIGNING SUBPOENA. - Coleman Is Now Worried

PASTOR SENDS OUT 22 REGISTERED LETTERS OF EXPULSION, 3 ACCEPT, 19 REFUSED.

Pastor Wants To Know Why Editor Does Not Write Up Episcopal Church?

Well, Rev. A. B. Coleman, pastor of Shiloh Metropolitan Baptist Church, really stepped into it this week when he expelled 20 Deacons and 2 Trustees for Signing a little Subpoena to make him give a financial accounting of the church's money and all records.

The Deacons, Trustees and one Deaconess expelled:

Only three out of the twenty-two accepted the Registered letters and nineteen refused.

Pastor Coleman needs to read up some more about the Baptist discipline, for it does not make him a CZAR, nor does it give him absolute POWER TO EXPEL a member without a trial and proven charges.

Signing a Subpoena is no violation by any means.

The Boys and Girls who signed the Subpoena were in good standing then, and they are still in good standing, and will meet Pastor Coleman Face to Face in Big Court, and make the fire too hot for the pastor's comfort.

A member of Shiloh wrote the following letter to the Editor: Dear Editor:

Where did the old pews and doors go? And why our bills, mortgage and interest have not been paid?

When the members of Shiloh Baptist Church said we were going to build us a new church, we worked hard and put money there to build. Pastor A. B. Coleman said when we started, we had almost money enough to build the present church, and the money was in the bank, but did not say under what name.

But still, he had to borrow $16,000 more; now, where is the money, and why the church is not finished.

Why Deacon Palmer, the man who hung all the doors, got up in a church meeting and asked for his money, why Rev. Coleman, told him to shut up and sit down?

You know that Deacon Palmer worked hard like a horse in order to cut down expenses. You didn't appreciate that.

Where did the old pews and doors go?

Rev. Coleman, Deacon Holland got up in a meeting and asked for your money, where did the old bricks and pews go, and you told him to sit down and never ask that question again as long as you were pastor?

You, Rev. Coleman, when new Shiloh was being built, asked if the men of the church would give a day's work each week, and that would save money, so they did, and those who did not, gave $5 in cash each for a day's work.

But where did all of those eight dollars go? God is not Dead or Sleep!

A Baptist Preacher, Rev. A.B. Coleman, you said in church that you had a dream, and it was, you dreamed that you and one of your deacons were in Hell and the only way he could get out, that his son came and brought him a BIBLE and, that was the only way you got out; but we are thinking when you, dear pastor, gets in 'HELL' again, son nor BIBLE or anything else will be able to get you out.

You, Rev. Coleman, our dear pastor, said Sunday, it was very funny that that the Editor does not write up his Episcopal church; maybe, his pastor does not hold the money like you, and he does not try to be a CZAR like you, You should visit the Episcopal Church and LEARN something.

END OF LETTER.

P.S. When Pastor Coleman invited the National Baptist Convention to meet there as guests of Shiloh Baptist Church, the church was too small, they couldn't get in the Armory in 1896, so the pastor secured a big tent, hired S.A. Brookins, the contractor, to put up the tent, the bills was $185, and the Pastor still owes brother Books $185.

Sneak Thieves Break Into Editor's Home And Made Big Haul

Between 1 and 2:30 O'clock Tuesday morning sneak thieves broke into the Editor's house, 1061 W. Union Street, while the editor and his wife were sound asleep, and the rain was coming down heavy.

The thieves removed the entire Westside Screen Window, sneak in, went directly to the editor's room took the pants to a $75 suit which, contained four silver dollars, four dollars in change, a large amount of paper money, a valuable ring, a pocket knife, a few old coins, wallet, keys, Deputy Constable Badge and all credentials, identification a n d Credit Cards, valuable papers, Bank and Check Book. Then the thieves entered the garage, broke the car glass and robbed the car, then broke into the house next door via window and lifted a woman's pocketbook and fled.

At 5 a.m., Mrs. Taylor went in the hall to let down a window, and came near falling through the screenless window, when she made a very nervous distressing call and passed out. The editor then came to her aid and called Police.

THE EARMARKS OF A CZAR

By a recent edict issued by the pastor of Shiloh Metropolitan Baptist Church, the Rev. A. B. Coleman; his title is now CZAR of a non-Russian possession.

The pastor proved that he is CZAR this week when he mailed 22 letters of expulsion by Registered Mail to the 22 Deacons and Trustees who were militant enough to sign the Subpoena to bring him into big court for a financial accounting and church, but only 3 of the Deacons accepted the Registered Mail.

The CZAR has forgotten his Baptist Discipline to the extent that no baptist can be expelled from the church and the interest of the church.

The Subpoena Boys a n d Girls were in GOOD standing when they signed, they are still in GOOD standing, a n d will FACE the Gzar in Court and prove that it does n t pay to inject Politics into church affairs.

4 SECONDS BEHIND WINNER—FINISHES 5TH AT MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wisconsin—It's close and yet so far.

The weather looked so bad I didn't think we would ever get the race started much less finish. But the rain held off and I found myself in one of the safest places I've ever been in. I qualified seventh for the one hundred mile event.

After two pure laps, starter Bill Vanderwater dropped the green. Art Blisch shot into the turn first, and I held my seventh position through the north end and into the straight-away. Then the yellow flag! Eddie Johnson had spun down in the grass. He was out of the car and all right.

For the next few laps, Blisch was still leading. Tony Bettenhausen was second, I'm my niece third, Bill Garrett fourth, Jim Rathmann fifth and Johnny Thomson sixth. Then on the 15th lap, I saw my opening. Thomson had passed Rathmann the lap before. I moved down under Rathmann as we raced wheel-to-wheel past the grandstand. We changed into the first turn and I glanced over to see if Jim was going to back off. He lifted just enough to get me in sixth, with the number five man, Thomson, in front of my nose.

I tested Johnny high and low as we went into each turn. He's always run well here and today was no exception. I found myself using every trick of the trade. Then on the 37th lap, I pulled even on the front chute. I was back off.

My Bowes "Seal Fast" Special was working real well and I had high hopes of catching Blisch before too long. Now I had to catch Garret. I had bodied a small oil streak on the track for the past two laps, and I could see Garret was throwing it. The stuff hadn't caused any trouble yet, so I wasn't too concerned.

Garrett was running well and I had my work cut out. The lap started the 44th lap, I moved inside going into the first turn. I got Blisch stuck and we came off. I was on the inside again by going down the back chute. Now to get past Blisch and get the lead. Again, I started testing. On the 48th lap I moved inside going off the second corner and found Blisch on the outside. But at once, Garrett moved under me and made it into the turn first. I was back in fifth with all to do over again.

I was three car lengths behind Blisch when suddenly, he hit the curb at the 50th lap. His rear end broke to the right and started into a slide, I moved down under him and could see on my next lap that he had hit the coveted concrete wall. He had spun in his own oil.

The pace slowed as we ran under the yellow for twenty laps. When the green was on again, I started to battle Reece for third position. We were in a real duel. Then as I entered the second turn, I could feel the brakes start to give up a little and I knew that any hopes I had of catching Garret were dashed.

Now I had to hold fourth and try to keep Thomson behind. But on the 88th lap, he moved by and I was back into fifth again. It was a real race for first with Blisch and Betterhusen. They swapped the lead for the last 75 laps and Blisch was home the winner.

So I was fifth, and only four seconds behind the leader. But I picked up 100 points toward the U.S.A.C. championship — I now trail Jimmy Bryan, the leader, by 200 points. Jim has announced he will pass up the title this year, so that makes George Amick the man in position, along with Tony Bettenhausen.

Langhorne is next on the 15th of June, and I'll be there trying to move up in the standings.
