

I know you will hurt me;
Still I love you so
You mean more to me darling
Than you'll ever know

There'll be happiness, yet, heartbreak and many tears
Still I'll have my memories through those empty years

There is nothin so beautiful as the love I have for you
Yet I know in my heart your's isn't half so true.

Mar. 9th, 1953

Always remember, whatever you do
Will end, and just be a memory for you

A memory to always hold dear in you mind
A memory to keep throughout all time

Have faith and have hope in all that you do
And one of these days your dreams will come true.

Mar. 19th, 1952