DIRECTIONS DIRECTED TO PUBLIC

The first edition of volume I of the external newsletter, "Directions", is being distributed today with the University News Facts. "Directions" will be published periodically throughout the year to keep people beyond the UNF staff informed of our progress. This issue will be sent to our general mailing list, including prospective students.

"Directions" should help stimulate interest in the UNF by adding to the understanding of its mission among our various publics. If you have any suggestions for articles in future issues, please see Jackie Briggs in public relations.

SLOGAN DEADLINE NEARING

Slogans! We want slogans! The deadline for the bumper strip slogan contest is drawing near! Entries will be accepted in the Office of University Relations and Development through 10 a.m., Tuesday (Oct. 26) due to the Monday holiday. Get the whole family in on this and come up with a slogan that will stick in the minds of millions! Remember: It is the thought and the wording that are important, not the display of the slogan. One more note: It's got to be better than "JU in '72". A lot of colleges are using that--even if they don't have basketball teams.

MAKE YOUR MARK IN CONCRETE

Our Phase II building program is moving into the planning stages and President Carpenter is inviting imaginative suggestions on how best to utilize the approximately 69,000 square feet available in Phase II.

Dr. James Dungan, dean of planning and evaluation, has appointed an advisory committee for the second phase. The members are: Dr. Johnny Arnette, associate dean of students; Dr. William Arthur, chairman of the department of accounting; Mr. Jack Funkhouser, director of instructional media; Miss Lucille Jans, assistant director of the library; Mr. Lewis Livingston, director of public relations; Dr. Thomas Mongar, chairman of the department of political science and public administration; Dr. Andrew Robinson, assistant dean of the college of education; Mr. Fred Simmons, director of information systems; and Mr. Robert Wallace, controller.

Their job is (1) to keep you informed of Phase II developments and (2) to keep the committee, Dr. Dungan and Dr. Carpenter advised of your ideas.

The concrete isn't set yet so take advantage of this unique opportunity to make your ideas felt.

MORE NEWCOMERS
TO UNF

SHIRLEY D. VAUGHAN, has just joined the staff in the Registrar's office as secretary. Mrs. Vaughan was with the Community Planning Council before coming to the UNF. She attended New York University for two years. Also new to Miss Betty Crippen's staff is ZINA ROSE SANCHEZ, a student assistant from Florida Junior College north campus.

Physical Facilities has a new clerk-typist who will do morning switchboard duty. She's MRS. DIANNA P. ROBERTSON, who worked at U.S. Plywood.

Two new student assistants in the library this week are EVA EVANS and DANIEL MENENDEZ, both Florida Junior College students.

SYMPHONY SOCIETY DRIVE

Stop at the bulletin board on your way past and give a look at the brochure on the Jacksonville Symphony Society subscription drive. Some great musicians are scheduled to appear in Jacksonville with one of the few thriving symphony societies left in the country. Last year was the first successful season for the Jacksonville Symphony after a long slump.

As a service to the cultural community, help keep the Symphony Society a going concern by contributing.

DR. WHARTON ON THE TUBE

Dr. William Wharton, assistant dean of faculties, will come into your living rooms tonight. No, he's not conducting a house-to-house search for the crook who used his car for a bank robbery get-away. He's appearing on Channel 7's talk show, "Feedback," at 7:00 p.m. He will discuss UNF admissions and answer questions called in. Tune in and watch our suave student recruiter make his local debut on the tube.

FJC TO HOST STUDENT GOVERNMENT CONVENTION

Florida Junior College will host the 1971 fall statewide Florida Junior College Student Government Association Convention Oct. 28-30 at the Jacksonville Hilton. Representatives of Student Government Associations, SGA advisors and directors of student activities from Florida's 27 community colleges are expected to attend. Three of the top four executive board members of the statewide organization are FJC students, including Doug Meeks, vice president; Linda Watermolen, secretary; and Jan Denham, treasurer.

EXTRA PROGRAMS AVAILABLE

Programs left-over from the groundbreaking ceremony last month are available for anyone wishing souvenir copies. Check with Carol Malphurs in the Office of University Relations and Development. A program sent to a prospective student or staffer or to friends might be a nice way of saying "sorry you missed it!"

UNF MODEL MOVED

The architect's model of the University of North Florida building complex has been moved from its last resting place in the City Hall to go on display in Roosevelt Mall. The model will continue to be displayed in various shopping centers, banks, etc. to attract as much attention and curiosity as possible for the UNF.

HAVE A SAFE AND HAPPY HOLIDAY! MONDAY (OCT. 25)
