OCLC CATALOG CARDS

The beginning book collection for the UNF Library came with card sets which were assembled into four separate card catalogs: author, title, subject and shelflist (call number) order. Before 1975, a unit card was typed locally and duplicated. Headings were typed on each card individually.

From 1975-February, 1987, card sets were ordered online from the bibliographic utility OCLC (Online Computer Library Center) as items were cataloged. These cards were pre-printed with headings* except the shelflist and main author or title card. Cards were received in daily batches through the mail.

From March, 1987-1997, only a single card was ordered for the shelflist catalog for inventory purposes.

*The enclosed cards have had typed headings added to replicate an original set.
