To my only sweetheart:

Sunday afternoon out and as I sit and reflect the past I wonder what you may be doing at 2 p.m. Feb. 24, 1918. Above all else I hope you are at least enjoying yourself. With exception of being very warm I am O.K., not as warm as I have been many a time especially these latter times that I met is fifty fifty. No imagination!

I am packed up and all ready to move from my present quarters in Block H to Block C. Will go whenever orders are given which may be today or tomorrow maybe. Have been assigned at least to Office Worker's Company. I have no idea what the duties may be so I presume I shall begin a few weeks instructions.
in preparation of doing some kind of office work. Block is to be at the east end of camp and is almost on the banks of the St. Johns River. Hate to leave the corps here in my present barracks but can see no way of staying here. Again I am glad to change. Anyway I am out of the same company, but shall never regret the time that I have spent in the company. One of the corps first said, "Madam, have you written Gal her usual Sunday letter?" Now fourteen sitting in our barracks to the fourteen right one watching letters. That is the way many a lonesome hour is passed by many. Every letter received we proceed to answer and so we have to answer everybody while those who write us write one letter most of us have eight or ten letters always awaiting answer and we keep track of those answered by writing one across the envelope.
Your letters always come first and others wait. The same way in reading them. Probably I will not always find time to write as many letters probably in the future as I have in the past, but shall do my best. That remains to be seen and found out.

How is Father? Tell her to write once in a while. Hope your mother is better.

E. J. Virgil and Carson have been here and have just left. All O.K. and they have been carrying each other high and without and quite a few laughs.

Shall send you a picture when finished. I mean a post card with my photo on it or your neg. [illegible]

Florida. Ha! - I'd gamble that I could pass you for the street and you would never know me. Only changed my appearance but my heart is all for you.

With luck and best wishes to all and Love to U. I am

Yours Truly, Llewel

Just as many as we pleased for no one else has yet had the opportunity. I wish that we never knew what it is to be poor. For now for a mo. almost I have had none and weigh no more than I ever did.
