

WE TEACH THROUGHOUT THE WORLD

INTERNATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOLS
Scranton, Pa.

Mr. Maceo Vanover
621 W. State St.,
Jacksonville, Fla.

Dear Sir:

Within the next few days I am going to send you a set of books which will give you the best-rounded view of business fundamentals ever made available in bound volume form.

Bradstreet tells us that 38.2% of business failures in this country are due to incompetence--the lack of adequate and exact information on the fundamental factors involved in business. Study any large business and you will find the vast army of the plodders--the men who know their own jobs and nothing more. A man may be a good production manager and know nothing about sales management. He may be a good shipping director and know nothing about accountancy. He may be a good advertising man but be absolutely wanting in knowledge of corporation organization.

The irony of it all is that no man can expect to get very far in any business, his own or any other, without a working knowledge of all of these business fundamentals.

That is where the Institute of Business Science comes in. Here in 63 wonderful, flexible, pocket-size volumes, you have the underlying background of all executive achievement--the exact, detailed knowledge which makes it possible for you to go ahead by leaps and bounds.

It makes no difference what you may be doing now. If you want to get ahead in business, and make an outstanding success in a big way, you need the information which these books bring.

Now is the time to prepare for the success of tomorrow. Now is the time to learn and understand the workings not of one but of ALL the major operations of business activity--financing, accounting, business management and operation--everything, in fact, which affects a business.

The Institute of Business Science Library comes to you complete in 63 handsome volumes of convenient pocket size. The books are bound in handsome blue fabrikoid which looks like leather, feels like leather, but wears longer. Each volume is handsomely embossed and the title is stamped in gold.

I am going to send your set to you for you to see, examine, and use for five days free of charge --at my risk and expense.

But there's just one thing. I want your permission to send it first. Just your name and address on the enclosed card are sufficient.

After 5 days, if not completely satisfied, you may return the books without obligation of any kind. On the other hand, if they are exactly what you need and want, you need send only $2.50 at once and $5 each month for eleven months. (Or for complete payment at once, you need send only $49.85.)

This is a special low price offer good for a limited time only. It is being made to a limited number of specially selected individuals because only a limited number of sets of the books are available.

Because of this we must limit the time of the offer. You must act at once to see these wonderful books free of charge and obligation. After this offer expires we cannot agree to furnish the Institute of Business Science at this low price and on these easy, special terms. To take advantage of this special offer, you must return the accompanying card, properly filled out, at once.

I must ask you to use the reservation not later than the date specified on the card, for naturally, I cannot hold open such an offer indefinitely.

And remember, there's no obligation of any kind if you are not satisfied. In that event simply return the books. No questions asked.

But you'll have to return the card right away. We have but a limited number of complete sets of the Institute of Business Science Library in stock. A few other specially selected individuals are receiving this same offer today. Until the date specified one set of the Institute of Business Science will be reserved for you and these others at this special low price. If your card is not received within this period, please understand we do not agree to continue this offer.

Make sure of your set right now. Just sign the enclosed card and mail at once. Your set of the Institute of Business Science will go forward to you, carrying charges prepaid, at once.

Cordially yours,

Edward P. Leonard

Manager, Subscription Division.

EPL-SB

545V