Eddie Murphy will be doing another movie very soon, based on a August Wilson Pulitzer Prize winning play. James Earl Jones will play the lead, and Murphy will be cast as his son. This should prove very interesting.

"Do Wop Love," a play by Ron Wyche and Herbert L. Rawlings, is at the Black Spectrum Theatre in St. Albans, New York. This production is a musical story about four gentlemen who get together after having not seen each other for a while, and they start reminiscing about the past. Check this out you'll love it.

Richard Pryor and Gene Wilder won't be making "My Silent

Partner" as soon as they had planned. Wilder has to finish the paramount flick he started on titled "The New York Times."

One of my readers asked for the first names of the members of "The Boys." They are Hakeem, Khiry, Bilal, Adul Samad and Tahjh.

Director Hal Prince is talking to talented actor Robert Guillaume about appearing in a road company production of "The Phantom of the Opera." Guillaume has a fine voice and has also studied opera.

A&M artist Janet Jackson is beginning her concert tour on March 1 at the Miami Arena in Miami, Florida. She'll also make stops in Cincinnati, Cleveland and other American cities.

Jack Kleinsinger is presenting "Highlights in Jazz" at NYU Loeb

Author Maya Angelou will be one of the writers on Oprah Winfrey's new "Brewster Place" series. Winfrey recreates the role of "Mattie," which she played on the mini series "The Women of Brewster" (seen last season on ABC).

Jimmy Butts and his talented friends recently appeared at St. Peter's Jazz Vespers. His friends included pianist Zeke Mullins, tenor saxophonist Earl Johnson, drummer Sheldon Gary and the lovely vocalist Joanne Norris.

That's all for now. Look for me around the Big Red Country.

Six Musicians to Open Highlights in Jazz Series

The 17th annual Highlights in Jazz series opens at 8 P.M. on Feb. 1 at New York University, Loeb Student Center, 566 La Guardia Place, with a concert by six noted musicians.

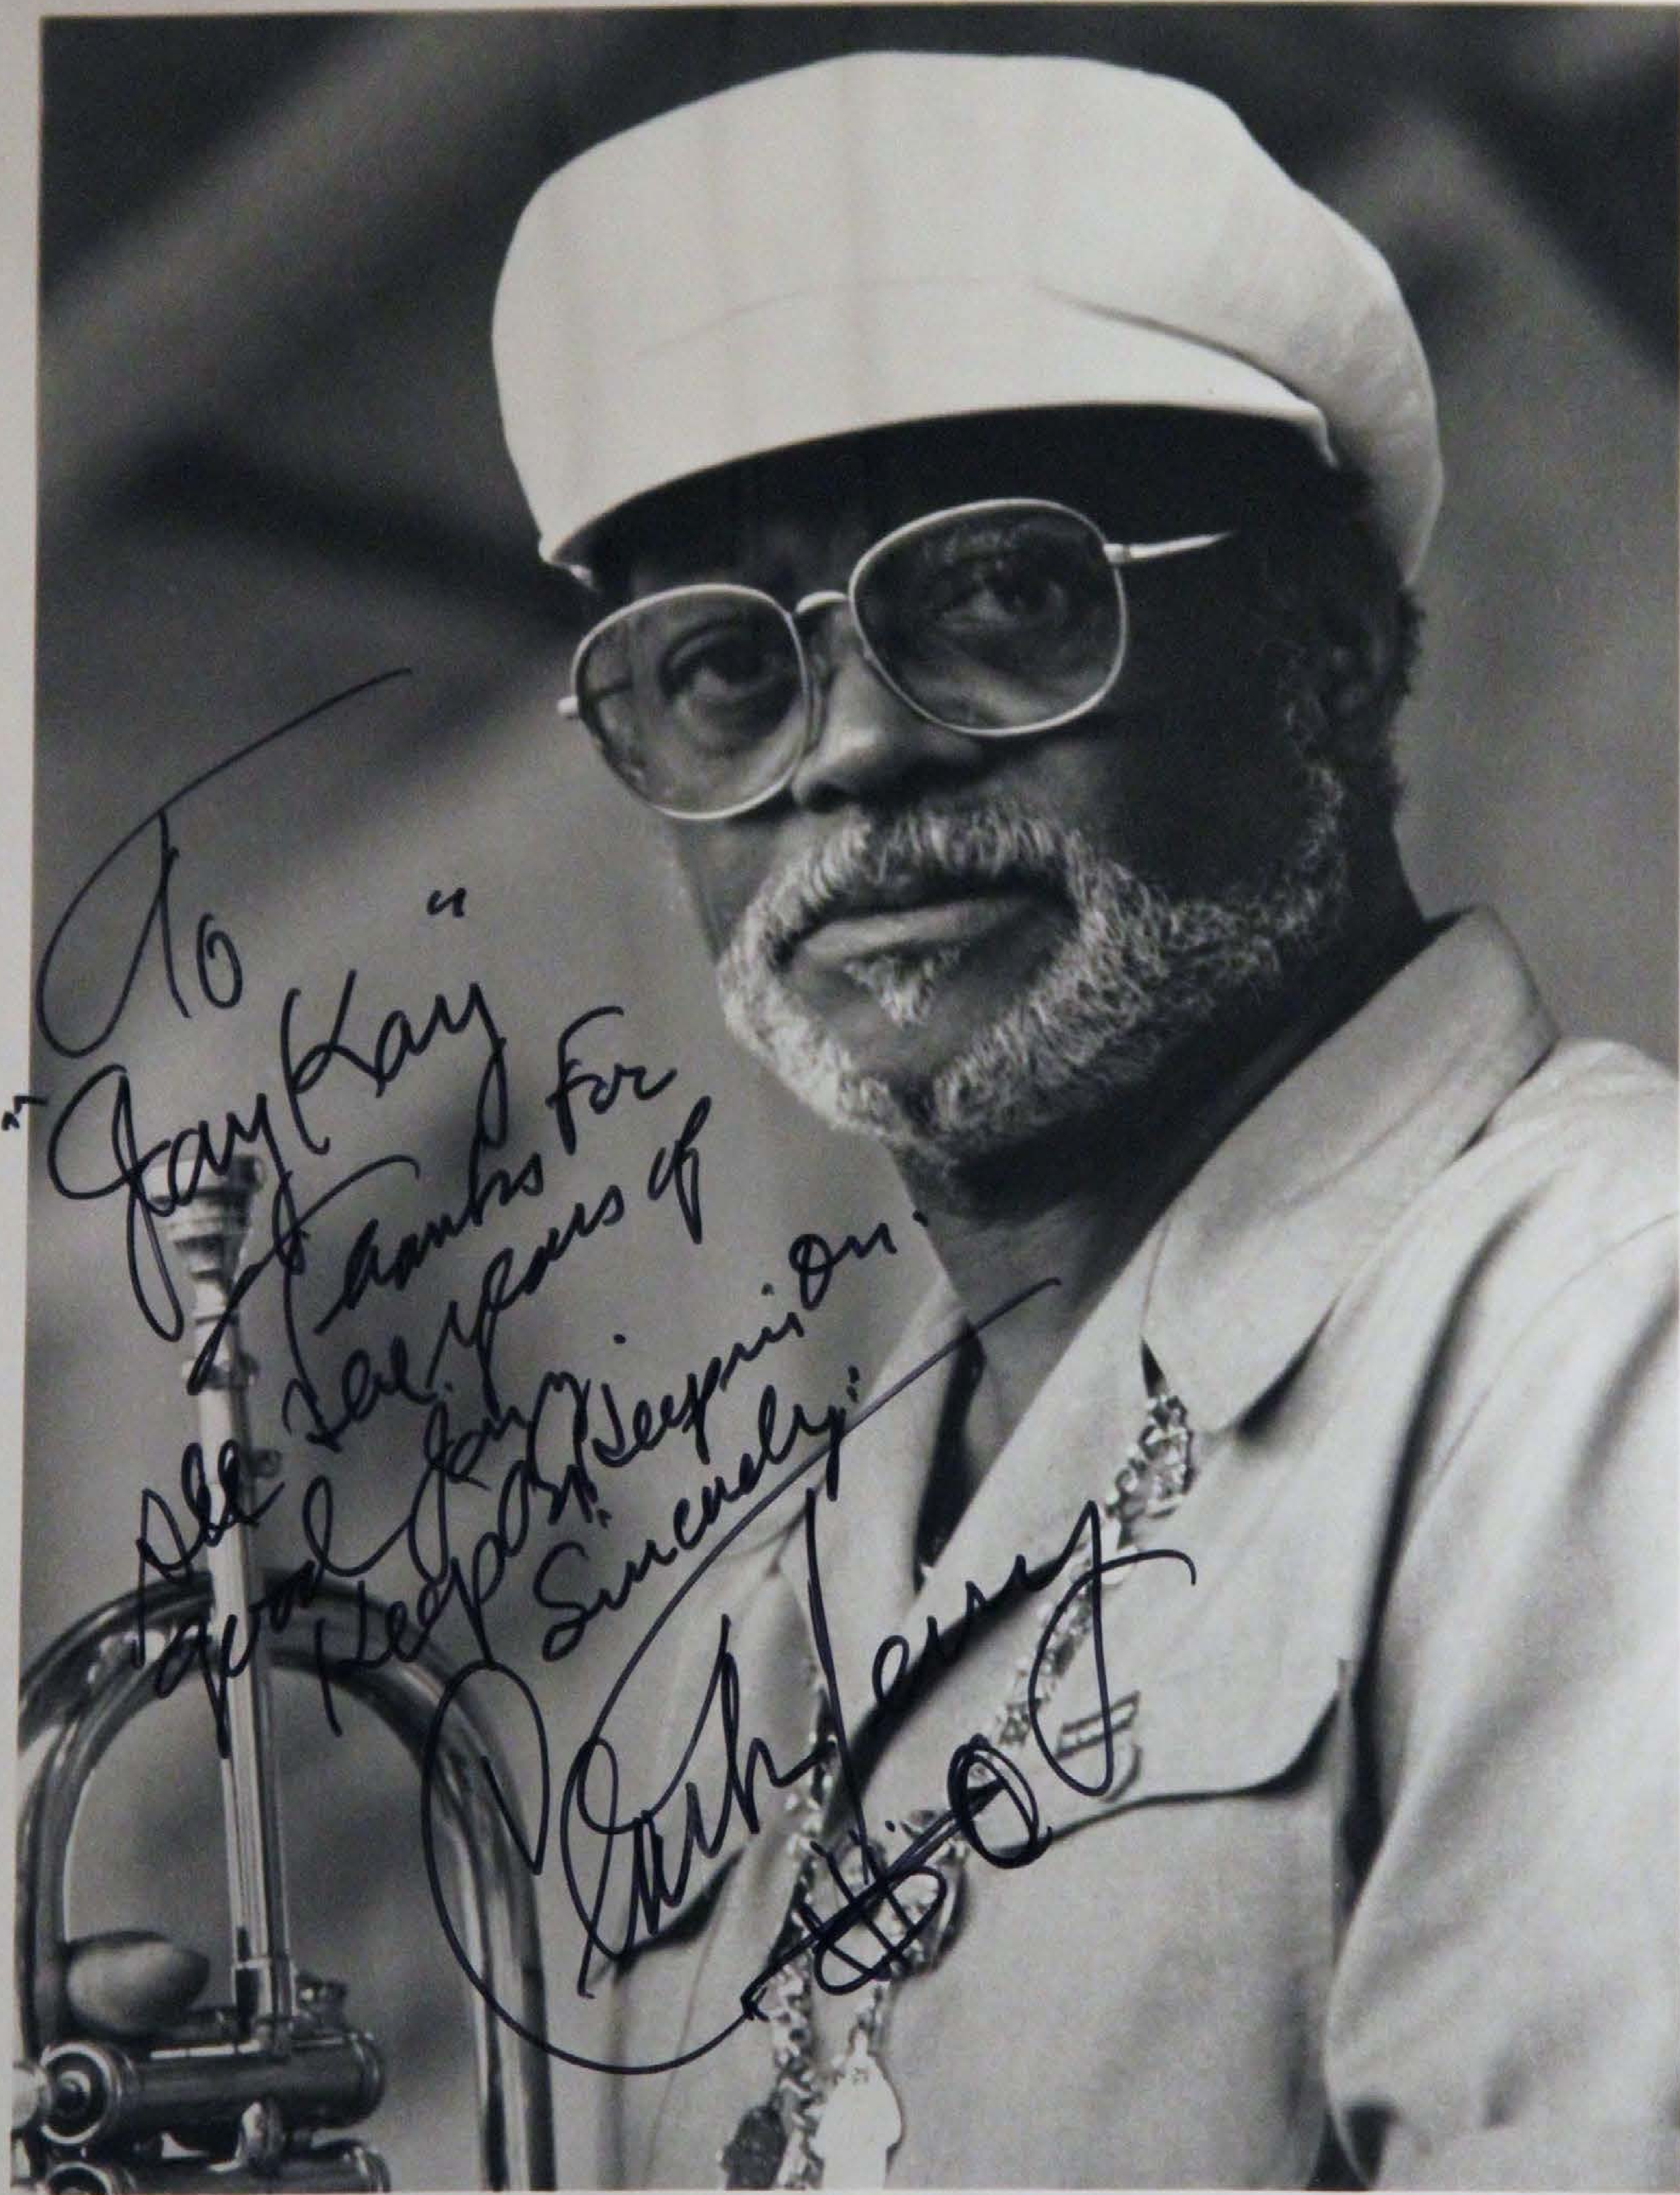

They are Clark Terry, trumpeter; Buddy Tate, tenor saxophonist; Al Grey, trombonist; Junior Mance, pianist; Lewis Nash, drummer, and Marcus McLaurine, bassist. Tickets are $10 ($6.50 for students).

The series continues with concerts by the Dorothy Donegan Trio (March 1) and Paquito D'Rivera (April 5) and a salute to Jimmy Heath (May 3). Information: 998-4949.

17TH ANNIVERSARY 'HIGHLIGHTS IN JAZZ'/NYU LOEB STUDENT CENTER/FEB. 1

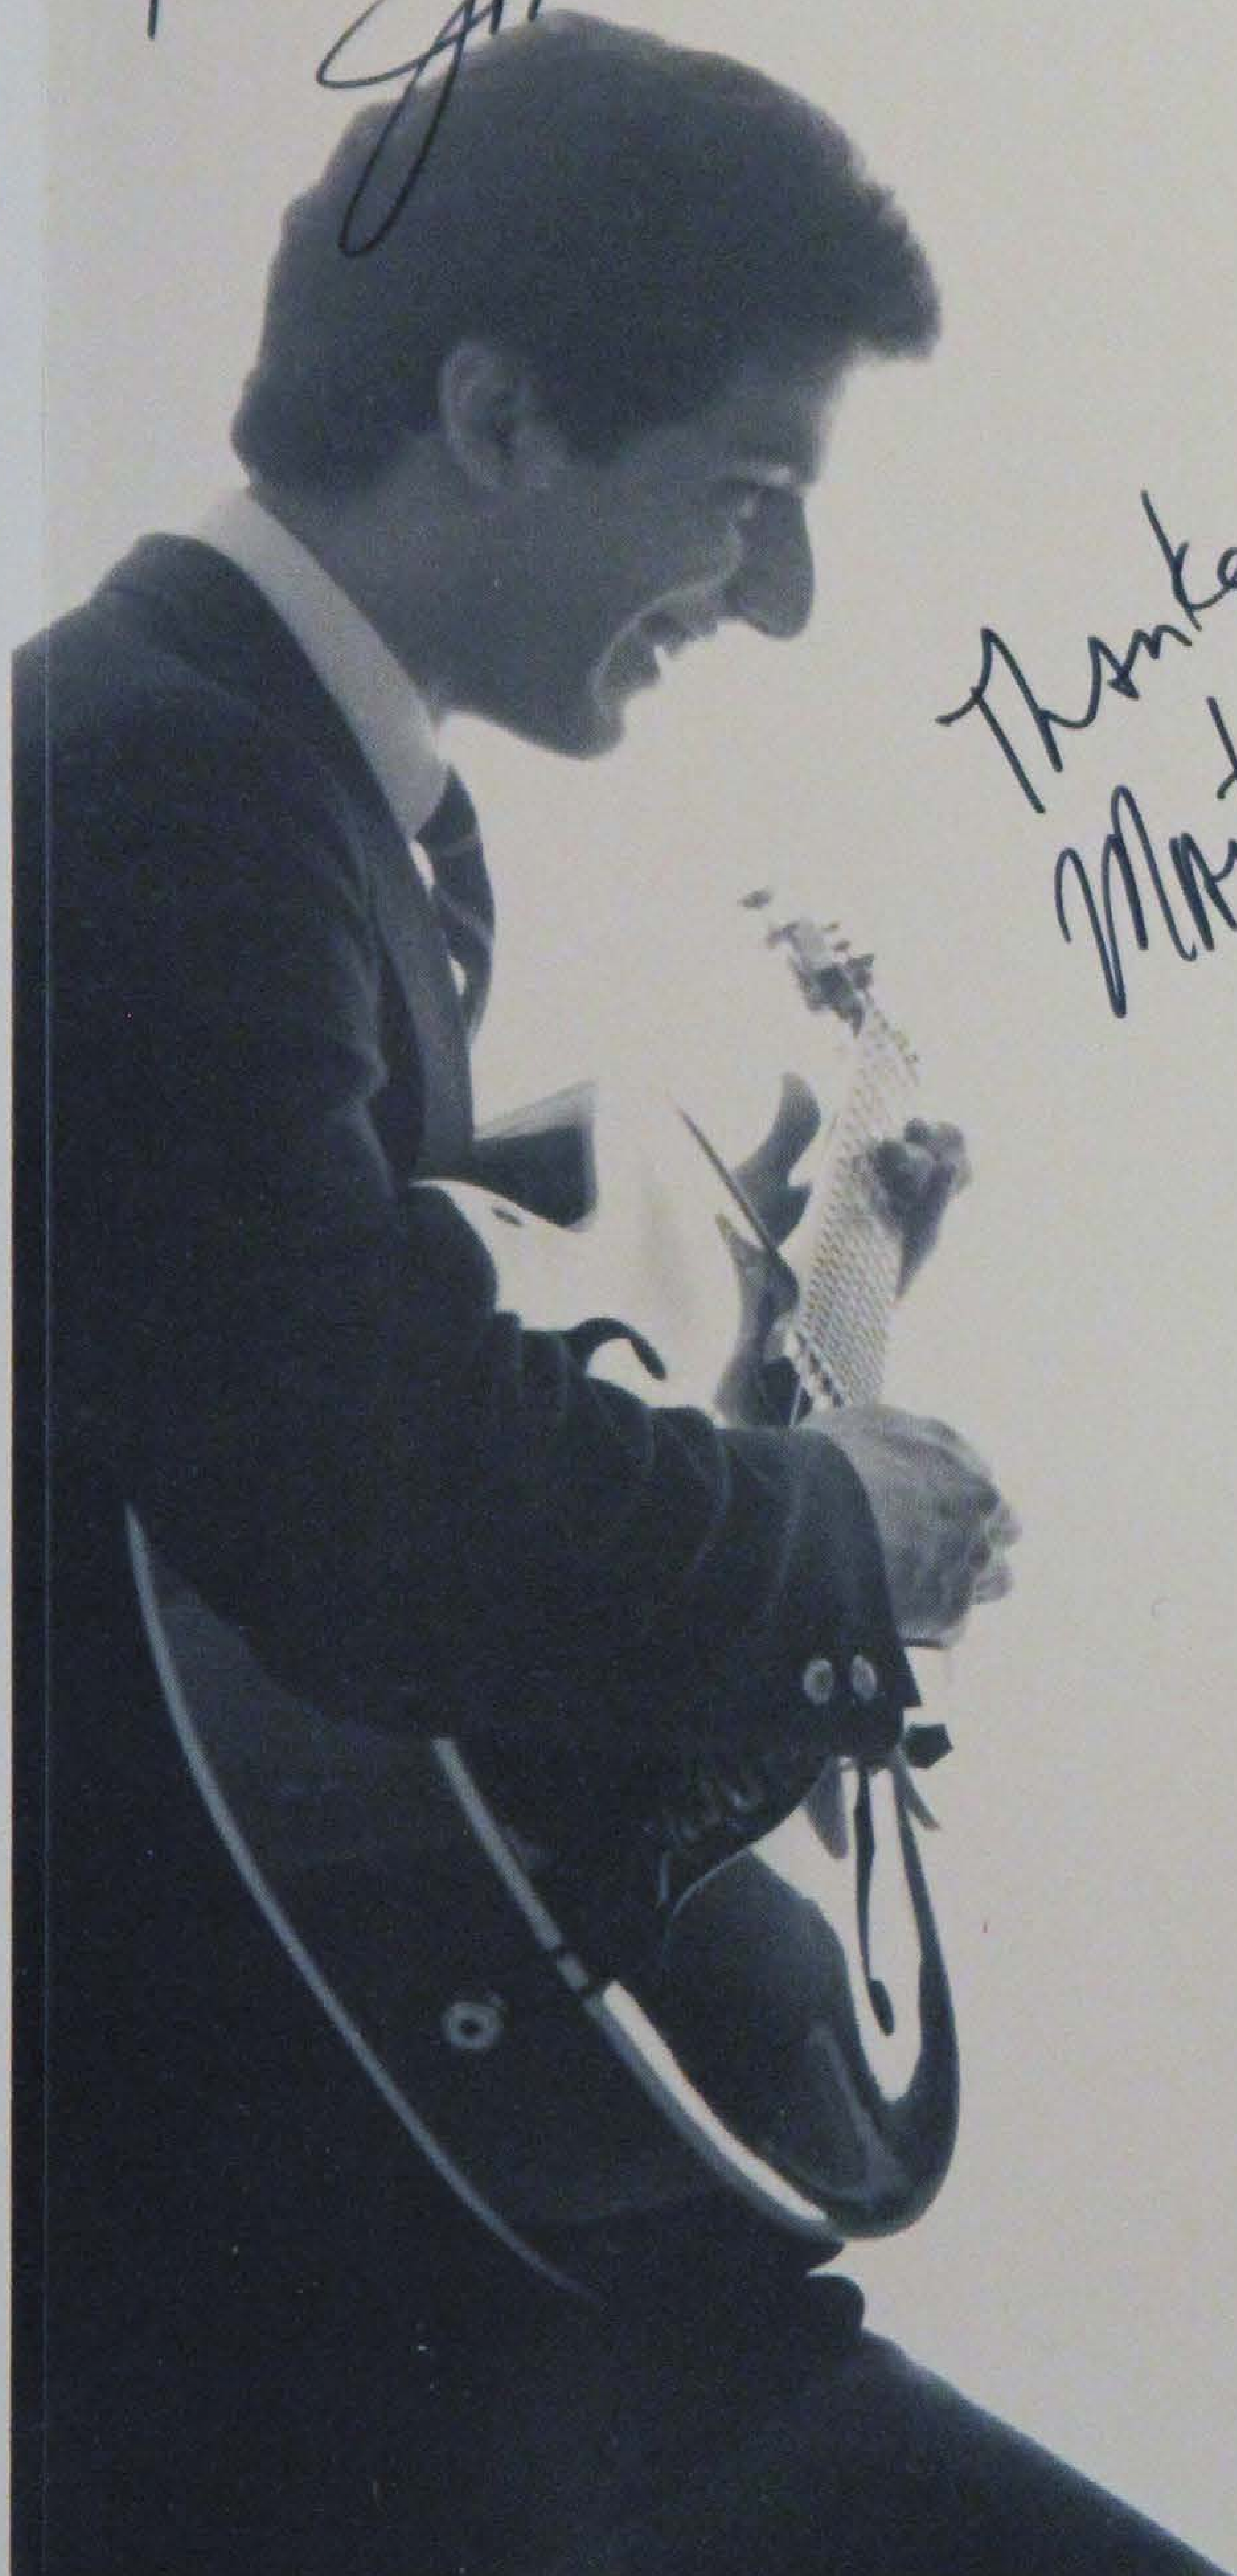

I'm not sure why, but every time I turn around there's another anniversary salute to "Highlights in Jazz." Bottom line is, that's OK with me. Jack Kleinsinger's shows always feel like a small-town affair and always bring the stars, many of whom are certified giants, up close and center. This event is birthday bash number 17, and it features elder statesmen who know a thing or two about partyin': hornsters Clark Terry, Buddy Tate (pictured) and Al Grey; backliners Junior Mance, Marcus McLaurine and Lewis Nash.
