DEMOCRATIC WOMEN

...from Eleanor to Hillary

WOMEN'S Voices-Women's Votes

The Democratic National Convention will highlight the re-nomination of Bill Clinton as our President. Focus will also be on Hillary Rodham Clinton, our first lady...and United States Senator Carol Moseley Braun, Illinois' own first lady. Join us to celebrate top women from around Illinois and the entire country. Meet, greet and talk to women political leaders...from the White House to the State House. This is your chance to participate in a convention activity where the only entrance badge you need is your contribution to Women's Voices-Women's Votes.

WOMEN'S VOICES - WOMEN'S VOTES...

...first organized in 1994, is a coalition of activist Illinois women whose primary function is to raise money to help electable, progressive Democratic women win in Illinois — both in the State Senate and the State House. Even with the overwhelming 1994 Republican takeover, two of the seven candidates supported by WWV won election to the Illinois House.

In 1996, the chances are excellent of electing even more progressive women and of re-taking leadership of the Illinois Legislature. The quality and experience of the women who are Democratic candidates this year is awesome. At last count, 41 women from across Illinois are running for seats in the House and Senate. Some are sure bets, others may have little realistic chance to win. The WWV focus is on those women in tight races with a real chance to beat their conservative Republican opponents.

With such an impressive group of candidates, working smart and working together, the women of Illinois can make the difference. WWV is the engine driving the empowerment machine. $100,000 is the fund-raising goal — with your help we can meet it.

The WWV message is simple and basic: Republican rule in Springfield has ignored the progressive agenda. Mean-spirited measures attacking women, the poor, school children and working families have become the order of the day.

We invite women in Illinois who care about personal freedoms and responsive government to become part of the 1996 WWV campaign. The potential for meaningful change to Illinois lawmaking is in our hands.
