"HIGHLIGHTS IN JAZZ"

Bucky Pizzarelli, the dean of mainstream jazz guitar, joins two members of his talented clan: John, the noted guitarist and singer, and his daughter-in-law Jessica Molaskey, a charming vocalist. Sir Roland Hanna, an open-armed stylist who can be as fastidious as he is funky, and other pianists join the family reunion. (Pace Downtown Theater, Spruce St. between Nassau and Gold Sts. 346-1715, Nov. 14 at 8.)

★ The Pizzarelli Family featuring John Pizzarelli, Bucky Pizzarelli, Jessica Molaskey and Special Guest Sir Roland Hanna

Pace Downtown Theater, 8pm, $25, students $22.50. Now that guitarist-singer John Pizzarelli has overtaken his dad Bucky on the popularity scale, the Pizzarellis are making a bid to be the first family of swing. And when the clan needs a little outside assistance, they sign up one of the best pianists in the business, Sir Roland Hanna.

THE PIZZARELLI FAMILY
PACE UNIVERSITY/NOVEMBER 14

The first family of swing brings its multifaceted musical talent Highlights in Jazz for a performance that includes both playing and singing. Actually, guitarist Pizzarelli the elder has been performing on producer Jack Kleinsinger's stage since practically before his son could walk, let alone sing. Lovely daughter-in-law Jessica Molaskey only recently joined her husband as part of the act. Also on the bill is Sir Roland Hanna, who, if a recent Tanglewood Jazz Festival recording of Marian McPartland's Piano Jazz is any indication, only improves with age. MS

THE PIZZARELLI FAMILY Both Bucky and John, his son, are on swing guitar, and Martin, less famous, is on bass. The Pizzarellis versus the Heaths and the winners versus the Marsalis — that I'd like to see, but the former flipping their way through standards from the swing era should suffice. Enjoy. Pace Downtown Theater, Michael Schimmel Center, at 8. (King)

All in the Family

Led by father-and-son team Bucky and John, The Pizzarelli Family makes swing so thrillingly frenetic it nearly rides off the rails in a live setting. So it's no surprise that the producers of the highly popular "Highlights in Jazz" series are bringing back the clan for yet another performance, on November 14 at Pace Downtown Theater. The gig should also get fans of this gypsy-bred brand of swing warmed up for the return of the explosive Django Reinhardt festival at Birdland next week. (See "Jazz.")
