The National Foundation for Women Legislators is a bi-partisan organization that promotes the networking, education, and re-election of women legislators on the local, state, and federal level. NFWL programs include Campaign Colleges, Women Lawmaker's Networking Day, the Leadership College and the NFWL Annual Conference, which will be held in New Orleans, Louisiana (November 16 — November 21, 2000).

The NFWL's Campaign College, which will be held in Los Angeles, California August 14-August 16, will bring together women state legislators from all across the country for seminars with some of the best political consultants in the country. All women legislators who are current NFWL members can participate in the trainings.
