*married women could neither sue nor be sued nor buy or sell real estate nor hold credit in their own name

*Louise's mother could not vote until 1920

*Women were not allowed to take the test to be bus drivers

*Rape victims were taken to the city morgue to be examined

Louise suggested that since Connie Knight was quite skilled on the computer, that perhaps she could do the program.

Sharon will ask about a woman to sing.

At the Cemetery

Some one (Louise) will lead procession

Some one will direct cars at cemetery gate

Louise will give out candles

Louise will lead procession to Mary Nolan's grave

Louise will talk about Mary Nolan and place something on her grave

We will then picnic:

Each of us will buy some fried chicken the night before, refrigerate it, and bring it to the cemetery

Karen will bring plates

Louise will bring napkins, table cloth, iced tea, broccoli.

Vicky Bowers will play sacred music

After we eat, if one would like to visit Mary Singletary and/or May Mann's graves, they may do so.

Edna is to call Margo Dudon
