Representatives Les Aucoin, Barbara Boxer and Maxine Waters, Senator Harris Wofford, Mayor David Dinkins, former CIA Director William Colby, Clinton senior economic advisor Derek Shearer, economist Jeff Faux and National Education Association President Keith Geiger will participate in a panel discussion and question and answer session on New Priorities in the 1992 campaigns and beyond. Other Senate candidates and experts in the field have been invited to participate.

The Campaign for New Priorities is a two year citizens' education and mobilization campaign seeking to unite an unprecedented array of concerned leaders and organizations in a national call to action. It is endorsed by over 300 prominent organizations, elected officials and individuals.

The Campaign focuses on making the argument that America has a historic opportunity to rebuild America with military dollars no longer needed now that the Soviet Union has collapsed. Its strategy centers around making available and distributing the most complete and up-to-date information on domestic priorities and military reductions in a way that resonates with American voters.

Our convention seminar will be a great opportunity to learn more about the importance of shifting our national budget priorities from military to domestic investment and how it can be a winning message with voters in 1992.
