In the attic the return duct from

1. There's a duct in the attic under the air handler that is capped off. Does it serve any purpose. Should it be removed if it does not?

2. Are all four of the vents in the living room functional? Are they tied in to the air handler in the garage? Especially the one over the hall door, is it tied to the air handler in the garage?

3. The sheetrock repair?

4. We discussed putting an air return in the soffit over the door from the kitchen to the living room. Since this was not done, and since the return in the hall to the laundry room has been constructed, is it adequate?

4. Electric buzzing? (over)
