Our Jacksonville local government spends over 700 million dollars annually and employs over 21,000 employees. Just as you look for proven competence whether you are selecting a repairman, a dentist, a lawyer, or any other type of service, the person you select to head our local government should be a proven effective administrator.

Lex Hester is the only candidate in the Mayor's race with the special education and proven professional background to manage and lead our complex local government. At a time when local governments all over the Country are in trouble, Lex has provided the leadership and professional know-how to rebuild two large Florida urban counties: Jacksonville's Consolidated Government (population 550,000) and Broward County's Charter Government (970,000 population). Lex's innovative leadership has enabled our community (and Broward County) to head off many of the calamities we hear about daily in other areas.

This time there is a choice.

Lex Hester WILL make it work.
