Dear Edna,

Congratulations upon your election as a delegate to the 2002 Democratic State Conference!

I am excited about our conference and see it as our launching point to elect a new governor-- to retire Jeb Bush. I am energized by the dedication of Democrats all over Florida to achieve this goal. Florida's best days are ahead of us.

Our state stands at a critical crossroads this election year. We have the opportunity to restore responsibility and fair-minded government. All of us agree that we can no longer stand by as the Jeb Bush administration ravages our public education system, ignores the needs of our senior citizens, perpetuates a low-wage economy, cuts funding for healthcare and human services, and threatens our environment. Enough is enough!

We must provide the very best for our children by improving our public education system.

We must protect our pristine environment which is so vital to our state's economy.

We must pursue programs to provide decent healthcare and affordable prescription drug benefits.

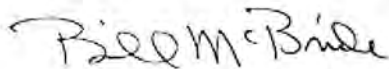

We must have living wages for all Floridians.

We must come together like never before to meet these and the many other challenges facing our state. Your participation in the upcoming conference and the campaign in the months ahead are crucial to this effort. We can win together by working together, by getting everyone to vote and by making sure those votes are counted.

My campaign for Governor is moving ahead at full steam. We have assembled an excellent staff and our fundraising is on target. But the most important component is you. I need your support to be successful. I look forward to visiting with you in Orlando and hope that you will join our team to build a better Florida.

Let's work together to ensure victory for Florida Democrats in 2002!

Best Regards,
