Robyn Scott

Robyn has appeared in Theatre Jacksonville's production of The Miss Firecracker Contest and in the Jewish Community Alliance's productions of I Never Saw Another Butterfly and The Wizard of Oz. As part of playwright Ian Mairs's Oasis Theatre Project she appeared in Talking With and she portrayed Cecily Cardew in The Importance of Being Earnest. Robyn's favorite theatrical experience, however, would have to be performing with Jamie Vaughn in Parallel Lives in 1996. In fact, she'd like to remind Jamie that she ... “looks very, very pretty tonight.”

Jamie Vaughn & Robyn Scott

Jamie Vaughn

Jamie holds a BA in theater from San Francisco State University, and has studied with the San Francisco American Conservatory Theatre Academy. Jamie has appeared in productions of Grease, Working, Quilters, and Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. In Jacksonville, she has appeared in The Miss Firecracker Contest, Dancing at Lughnasa (Best Supporting Actress, Theatre Jacksonville), Sylvia (Best Actress, Theatre Jacksonville) and Lost In Yonkers (Best Actress).

A Woman's Voice

The Step Group called “A Woman's Voice” was formed when a Douglas Anderson student decided to put her poem, inspired by Maya Angelou, to step choreography. Enlisting the help of other Douglas Anderson women, a piece was created which, through movement and voice, reflects a woman's strength and perseverance.

Charlotte Mabrey

is the principal percussionist for the Jacksonville Symphony Orchestra, a position she has held for over 20 years. In addition to her work with the JSO, Ms. Mabrey is a professor of music at the University of North Florida. Ms. Mabrey continues to be an active performer outside the confines of her symphony job. Each year she captivates and amazes audiences with her “off beat”, avant-garde performances that have been described as “unlike anything you have seen before”.

Charlotte Mabrey

Marsha Glazière

holds a BFA in Painting from the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana and her graduate work includes anatomical study at the University of Washington Medical School as well as Master painting and printmaking studies. Glazière has participated in the Jacksonville Cultural Council C.A.N.V.A.S. Program and teaches art at the University of North Florida. She has exhibited extensively both nationally and internationally.

The mission of the Women's Center of Jacksonville is to support and empower women by nurturing mind, body, and spirit and by advocating for the dignity and respect for all women.

Our Guiding Principles:

Dignity: We value women, take pride in their greatness, and honor their worth.

Integrity: We have the courage to make ethical decisions, even when faced with difficult choices.

Balance: We encourage women to make choices that bring harmony and balance to their lives.

Advocacy: We work for and support social change that empowers women.

Respect: We honor the collective wisdom of women and celebrate the feminine spirit.

Passion: We are passionate about who we are and what we do.
