Dear Mr. Roach:

I take pleasure in appointing you as Editor and General Manager of the new university-wide newspaper. Your duties and responsibilities will be those as outlined in the attached plan that I have approved for interim operation.

Your opportunity for service to the university in this capacity is broad and unique. Both as teacher and editor you will be expected to balance editorial freedom with editorial responsibility. I know the demands will be heavy, but I am confident that your professional skill and integrity and the organizational plan provide assurances that this balance will be appropriately maintained.

You have my personal support, enthusiasm and best wishes as you undertake this important role.

Sincerely,
