If you are interested in participating on any of these committees, or on one of the projects mentioned above, please get in touch with one of the chairs or me.
I am (finally) getting around to writing my meeting sum-up and plan-for-the-future memo. So much time has elapsed that I had put the meeting in October out of my mind and was pleasantly reminded of our many successes in my review of my notes and records.

The 1993 meeting was a great success for the Division on Women and Crime, thanks to the efforts of so many members. We tried a number of new things-- in terms of scheduling and format-- for the Phoenix meeting, and most of them worked extremely well. We succeeded in making a number of decisions, trying a new meeting format that worked very well, trying a evening venue for our (now) annual social event, being an effective presence at the ASC regular board meetings, organizing a number of exciting panels (some of them Standing Room Only), running an effective outreach operation, and many other activities as well. I had gone into the meetings with more than a little trepidation; now that they are over and went so well, my current concern is "how will we top last year's?"

1993 Meeting Summary

Before moving on to activities that are planned for this year, let me take a few minutes to review some of our goals for the 1993 meeting and to acknowledge the contributions of many members in making it so successful. One of our goals was to get more, and different, members of the Division on Women and Crime (DWC) involved in division activities. I think we can say we are well on our way. Some newer and younger members -- including Nancy Wonders, Susan Caulfield, Chinita Heard, and many others-- played very active roles in the meetings. We also had excellent turnouts for the two business meetings, scheduled at the very early hour of 8:00 AM on Thursday and Friday mornings. We got through a great deal of business in two one-hour sessions.

We also had a splendid turnout for our pre-dinner party, in which we honored DWC member Freda Adler, incoming president of the ASC. Many thanks to Kathleen Gale, Barbara Price, and Coramae Richey Mann for their inspiring and heartfelt words. Despite some slight technical glitches, the event was wonderful (a room filled with women!!) and thoroughly enjoyed by all. I am assuming we will do a similar format next year in Miami. I am indebted to Susan Krumholz for her hard work in organizing these special events for the past two years-- thanks.

The Division also tried a new idea for outreach, nightly dinners "hosted" by a more established DWC member for any and all meeting participants choosing to sign up. Imogene Moyer, DWC secretary and chair of the Outreach Committee did a super job of putting these together, as well as organizing a well run DWC table-- with free ribbons to distribute, no less! Thanks, Imogene, for your help. My feedback was that the table was extremely helpful to lots of participants and that the dinners went really well and should be repeated next year.

This year again the DWC had a focus on sexual harassment through an informal session held in the suite of the ASC president, Delbert Elliott. In addition to providing an opportunity for members to share experiences, Sexual Harassment Task Force Chair Nancy Wonders focused some discussion on options available to those experiencing sexual harassment. In addition, Nancy organized an on-site mentoring program and (I hope) will continue working to build a support network for individuals experiencing sexual harassment. Nancy has shown impressive leadership in this work--thanks!

We also passed a couple of pieces of legislation. First, in an effort to include more newer/younger members of the division in its business, the DWC bylaws were changed so that from now on, at least one of the three executive counselor positions shall be elected "from among DWC members currently holding non-tenured professorships or otherwise in the early stages of their careers." Second, members voted to raise Division dues from $5 to $10 annually; they will be maintained at $5 for students, part-time, and unemployed members. Finally, the members voted to institute the Division on Women and Crime Award, to be presented annually to a member of the DWC who has made outstanding contributions to criminology. (I will attach a description of the award). Finally, the Division passed a resolution concerning women in prison that was sent to the ASC executive board.

1994 Executive Board

The 1994 Executive Board is comprised of the following people:

Chair: Lynne Goodstein (1st year)
Vice-Chair: Christine Rasche (2nd year)
Secretary/Treasurer: Imogene Moyer (2nd year)
Executive Counselors: Coramae Richey Mann (2nd year)
Nancy Jurik (1st year)
Nancy Wonders (1st year)

1994 Projects and Activities

(NOTE: PLEASE LOOK FOR YOUR NAME IN THE SECTIONS BELOW. ALSO PLEASE COPY ME ON ANY CORRESPONDENCE RELATED TO DIVISION WORK SO THAT I MAY KEEP COMPLETE RECORDS OF ALL ACTIVITIES.)

Many of you have already been working hard on various Division projects for the 1994 year. In this memo I will try to run through all the ideas for activities and projects we discussed at the 1993 meetings and other items that have come up since then.
Awards and Fellows Nominations

The deadlines for these nominations seem to loom earlier and earlier each year. Sally Simpson and Susan Miller (with the help of Betsy Stanko, Kathy Daly, Meda Chesney Lind, Freda Adler, Donna Hale, and others) have done a great job already to organize the nominations of several extremely strong candidates for ASC awards and fellows. We are also appreciative of the help of Jill Rosenbaum and Joan McCord, ASC chairs of the Awards and Fellows committees, for their cooperation. Let’s keep our fingers crossed!

Division on Women and Crime Award

The Division now has an award! I am in the process of appointing an Award Selection committee for this year.

Nominations

Doris MacKenzie and Chris Sellers are co-chairs of the Nominations Committee for 1994. They are responsible to make nominations for executive committee positions for the Division that will be vacated. Since all board positions are two-year terms, the following positions will need to be recruited for next year:

- Vice-Chair
- Secretary/Treasurer
- 1 Executive Counselor (should be the early career phase one)

These elections have generally taken place in the late summer/early fall, though there is nothing in the constitution/bylaws to prohibit them from taking place earlier (like late spring).

In addition to finding qualified persons to run for these positions, the Nominations Committee is responsible for obtaining statements from each person on the ballot and for coordinating with Sarah Hall at the ASC office in getting the statements and ballots sent to all Division members.

Also, this committee is responsible for making nominations for persons to run for ASC offices. The slate for the 1994 ballot is already set; this committee should start thinking about the 1995 slate.

Outreach Committee

Coramae Richey Mann and Chinita Heard have agreed to serve as co-chairs for the Outreach Committee. I have spoken with Chinita and Coramae and understand that they have a number of new initiatives they will try this year, including a letter to the ASC membership and a special panel. In addition, there are a number of activities this committee has historically been responsible for related to the annual ASC meetings. These include:

1. Planning for the Division table for the 1994 meeting;
2. Preparing a list of panels for the 1994 meeting that highlights women and crime and feminist issues;
3. Organizing the nightly Division Dinners.

I understand that Imogene Moyer, chair of the Outreach Committee last year, has agreed to help with the committee again. I am also encouraging the chairs to recruit a couple of additional committee members to help with the workload.

Student Affairs

I think (I hope!) Mona Danner has agreed to chair this committee again. (Mona, if you did not think you were doing this, please contact me soon). It would be great to get a new person involved as a co-chair, so I hope Mona will try to recruit someone to work with her.

There were ideas coming out of the 1993 meeting that relate to student affairs. One was discussion of several panels that would be created for the 1994 meetings dealing with being women at various career stages. One of these panels would deal with issues students face in becoming oriented to the ASC and in job hunting. Mona, I hope, will be helping to organize this panel.

Special Events

Susan Krumholz has agreed again to co-chair the Special Events committee, with Kathleen Gale as her co-chair. I believe that the consensus was to leave the social event sponsored by the Division as an evening pre-dinner party for 1994. Ideally, this event would be held on Wednesday evening, prior to the first general Division meeting on Thursday morning. It is probably about time to begin to look into places to hold this event.

Curriculum Guide

Chris Rasche and I will attempt to have this guide ready to distribute at the 1994 meeting. We still need materials and have been in touch about making personal calls to people who have not yet submitted but who we know have something to say.

Mentoring Program

Nicky Rafter and Ruth Seydlitz have taken leadership on a Division mentoring program. Information about the program will be published in the next DivisioNews and will be sent in a separate mailing to all Division members.

Related Thematic Panels

There had also been some discussion at the thematic session organized by the division to have another panel at the 1994 meeting devoted to mentoring untenured women faculty members. Drew Humphries and Susan Caringella McDonald agreed to organize such a session.

We also discussed two additional panels related to issues of women in the profession. One would be primarily devoted to students, dealing with issues such as: orientation to the ASC, job hunting, networking, etc. The following people agreed to organize this session: Mona Danner, Lisa Fromer, Nancy Wonders, and Susan Caulfield.

The second panel would focus on issues of being women in the academy after tenure. Issues to be discussed included: hostile environments, issues of advocacy for women in your institution, mentoring skills and perspectives, dealing with loneliness; etc. Lynne Goodstein and Merry Morash have been targeted for organizing this session.

Women in Prison Task Force

Following the second division meeting in Phoenix a small group of division members met to continue the work that Karlene Faith had begun in drafting the legislation regarding women and prison. Many thanks to Zelma Henriques and others for taking up this work and moving forward with it. I am a bit unclear as to exactly what this group has planned for itself in the time until the next meeting. I would appreciate hearing from Zelma, Karlene, or another member of this group. Please let me know of your specific plans, who the persons are who are involved in this work, and anything you would like me or other members of the division to do.

Sexual Harassment Task Force

From the information I received (I was unable to attend the sexual harassment session at the 1993 meeting), the informal session on sexual harassment again went well. I would like to get some feedback about whether we should do the same again next year or take a different approach. Susan Caulfield, would you give me some idea of what this task force wants to do for next year’s meeting?

In anticipation of our wanting to do another informal session, I will request the use of the Presidential Suite from Jerome Skolnick.

Computer Mailing List

Susan Caulfield has (also!) volunteered to create a computer mailing list of all division members. As more and more people use electronic mail, this will be an increasingly useful and important means of communication. She will continue to collect names and e-mail addresses and hopefully will have a list ready to distribute by next year’s meeting.

Other Issues Raised at the 1993 Meeting

A number of excellent and interesting ideas were raised during meetings, sessions, and hallway conversations regarding other activities/ issues the DWC might wish to consider. Here are the ones I noted:

1. How can the DWC use the energy of pro-feminist men more effectively? How can pro-feminist men help us in our work?

2. How can the DWC become involved in the work currently being done on criminology in the 21st century? Evidently, there is a working group, which includes Joan Petersilja, that is considering issues of crime and justice in the 21st century. It is unclear to what extent feminist perspectives/ women’s issues are being included in these discussions. How can these issues be given some attention? I would appreciate hearing from anyone with an interest in working on these issues, or from those who are already working on them with ideas of how the DWC could become more involved.

3. How can the DWC work to support the interests of criminologists of color, both women and men, in the ASC?

4. The need for getting out the message as to what the DWC does was discussed repeatedly. Many thought that the Society as a whole does not understand the division's mission. Some ideas for responding to this need were creating some new PR materials and doing a mass mailing to the ASC membership.

New Business

The Division has been approached with an invitation to edit one issue per year of the Journal of Contemporary Criminal Justice. This matter is in the initial talking stages, but if it happens, it will be an opportunity to showcase issues of women, justice, and feminist perspectives in a new way. I will keep you posted on this.

Call for Participation

If there are division members who are interested in getting involved in any of the activities listed above, or in initiating something new, please know that your energy is needed and will be greatly appreciated. Please write, bitnet, or call me or one of the persons identified with the activities mentioned above to find out what you can do.
