Dear Edna:

I am writing to tell you how grateful I am for your generous contribution to my Presidential Exploratory Committee. Thank you for expressing your personal determination to wage a winning 2008 campaign that will renew America's promise. These opening months have been filled with excitement and energy, and we have made some amazing progress. Your support is helping to bring us that much closer to victory.

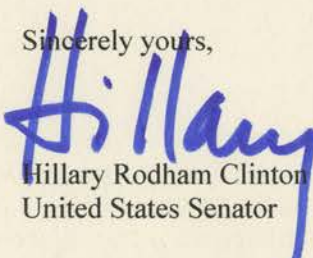

With your help, we will restore respect for America's leadership around the world and repair the basic bargain of America: that if you work hard and play by the rules, you and your family will have the tools to make a better life.

Winning in 2008 is about renewing the promise of America. It is about boldly embracing the bright future that can be ours if we have the courage and will to claim it. That is the message we are bringing to voters across the country. Thanks to your support, our campaign has recently opened offices in eleven critical states, has over 100 paid field organizers on the ground in the early battleground states and is contacting voters across the country. But there is still work to be done.

As this campaign has made its way across the country, I have enjoyed meeting some of you, and I hope there will be an opportunity in the months ahead to express my appreciation to each of you in person. Our country is ready for change, and I thank you for the faith you have put in me to lead our country in a new direction as President.

With gratitude for your friendship and warm regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

Hillary Rodham Clinton
United States Senator
