NIGHTLIFE WITH THE NIGHTBIRD

by Alison Steele

What a wonderful way to open the New York nightlife season, with Miss Julie Wilson! Julie, who has performed all over the world, will be in residence at Cafe Carlyle (35 E. 76th St., 212-744-1600) until Oct. 28th. If you want to see what cabaret is all about, don’t miss Julie; she is merely superb.

It’s Julie Wilson at the Cafe Carlyle.

“Highlights in Jazz,” New York’s longest running jazz series, kicks off its 17th series on Thursday, Oct. 5th, when the subject will be “The Art of Swinging” starring Louis Bellson, Jay Leonhart, John Bunch, Ted Nash Jr. and special guest Hank Jones at the piano. The concert takes place at NYU Loeb Student Center, 566 LaGuardia Place, at 8pm. For ticket information call 998-4949.

BLUE NOTE: 131 W. Third St., (212) 475-8592, Les McCann and Eddie Harris (piano and sax), plus Hank Crawford and Jimmy McGriff (jazz and Hammond organ), bring some soul to this always packed, neon-and-chrome room — passionate emotions and a beat you can tap your foot to — through Saturday.
BOTTOM LINE: 15 W. Fourth St., (212) 228-7880.

The refreshingly gentle sounds of Windham Hill recording artists Montezuma — Mike Marshall on mandolin, Barbara Higbie on guitar, Michael McOnie on bass and Tom Miller on drums — drawing upon acoustic jazz and folk traditions, Tuesday.

BRADLEY'S: 70 University Place, (212) 228-6440, Jerome Bracken (through tomorrow) may sound as if she's spent her life listening to such forthright modern stylists as McCoy Tyner, Chick Corea and Ornette Coleman — but the pianist she first modeled herself on was none other than Frankie Cole. Late at night, after she's played all the modern things she's known for from her popular Concord albums, maybe you can coax her to unwind with a touch of Carole ("Polonaise in Boogie" anyone?).

BUSTER'S CRABHOUSE: 325 Bowery at Second Street, (212) 254-0040, Trumpeter Jacques Butler, reedman Jim Davis and pianist Rick Meltzer through tomorrow; pianist Bob Benford Lepley and singer, Sunday.

CAJUN: 129 Eighth Ave., near 16th Street, (212) 691-0174, Canal Street Jazzband tonight, Great Atlantic Jazz Band tomorrow.
